INCOME TAX CASES
TO BE LAID BEFORE
U. S. GRAND JURY

District Attorney's Office Preparing Evidence of Evasions by Business Houses and Individuals.

SOME WHOLESOME CONCERNS INVOLVED
Former Practice Has Been to Compromise Cases of Unfair Returns — Flagrant Violations Cited.

Readers of the Federal income tax, who in this district heretofore when caught have enjoyed the privilege of rectifying the matter by making payment of the tax due the Government, plus nominal cash penalties, are to be given consideration by the Federal grand jury now in session. It was learned today.

The District Attorney's office, while declining to discuss details of the various cases, said its office is now preparing to present several such matters to the grand jury.

The District Attorney said "evidences of the tax through the falsification of book records, the maintenance of fictitious bank accounts and the presentation to the Government of false records of sales and purchases were becoming more numerous, and declared the department had decided to take drastic steps to check the practice.

It is known the grand jury investigation will involve several business houses and their officers and in some instances employees of the institution as well as a number of individuals.

Section 253 of the income tax law, under which prosecutions will be made in the event of indictments by the grand jury, holds officers and employees of corporations equally liable for willful evasion of the tax and provides a penalty of a fine not to exceed $10,000 or imprisonment not to exceed one year, or both.

Since the income tax law became effective it has been the practice of the Internal Revenue Department to compromise all of the cases in which they found the taxpayer had not made a fair return in carrying out this practice, offers of compromise are made to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue at Washington and in his judgment they are sufficient to accept by him.

Local authorities make recommendations in the matters only.

With the acceptance of an offer in compromise it has been the practice to drop the case, thereby compromising the criminal, as well as the civil liabilities of the taxpayers and their agents.

It is known that in this manner one wholesale house compromised a claim against it by the Government, relative to its 1918 return, of nearly $1,000,000. In making the compromise the taxpayer's corporation paid tax officials the discrepancy in the concern's return was due to an error in judgment of the officials in anticipating a declining market following the signing of the armistice, while as a matter of fact a rising market followed. There were no prosecutions in this case and the matter was never presented to the District Attorney or the Department of Justice for criminal action.

Evidence of Flagrant Evasions.
Tax officials say that in their investigations of supposed tax dodgers they have found evidence of evasions so flagrant they were amazed at the individuals attempting them. As an illustration they point to the statement of a well-known politician and professional bondsman who made a nontaxable return and when brought before the investigators said, under oath, that he signed bonds only for his friends and that he had never in his career as a bondsman accepted a fee for such services. This case has been referred to District Attorney Carroll.

Investigation of another taxpayer who has annually made a return showing a nominal income, while his income is reported to be quite large, revealed, the investigators say, that he had transferred much of his property to friends and relatives in order to cut down the amount of tax due on his income.

Several large business concerns in the city are now being investigated by the Government, following investigations by the department of their returns. Several of these cases will be reviewed by the grand jury.

RENO, March 1.—Reno's divorce colony is surprised at the discovery that two of its most recent arrivals—both of whom became quite prominent among the gay set—were dry enforcement officers whose activities up to today had brought about 12 arrests and the closing of a number of places where it had been whispered, those knowing the right word could obtain liquor.

One of the agents posed as a film company director and the other appeared in the role of "representative of the steel trust." They gained admittance to the select coterie by convincing attorneys that they sought divorces from fictitious wives in order to avoid equally fictitious women whose purported photographs and letters they displayed. The attorneys are said to have done what they could to speed the hours for their prosperous clients while the latter established the necessary legal residence preparatory to filing the divorce complaint. One even is said to have introduced one of the agents to young women who enjoyed parties given by the law.

Both officers, it is said, became highly popular with the feminine contingent of the colony. One received a variety of notes, and a smaller but equally interesting variety of letters from the prospective divorces. These he exhibited gleefully, without, however, permitting their names to become known. There is considerable apprehension in the colony regarding suborns to testify.

Eight places have been raided on information obtained by the agents and complaints are to be filed Friday against the 13 arrested, according to the "United States District Attorney." These he said, would charge violation of the Volstead act, while a score or more of others, naming "lookouts" at the various places, will charge conspiracy.

Reno today is said to be the driest spot in the United States.

Former "Wizard" of Klan Indicted Under Mann Act

Edward Young Clarke of Atlanta Named in Bill and His Arrest Ordered.

HOUSTON, Tex., March 1.—An indictment charging violation of the Mann act has been returned by the Federal grand jury here against Edward Young Clarke of Atlanta, former acting "Imperial Wizard" of the Ku Klux Klan. Orders have been issued for the arrest of Clarke, it is understood. Clarke is said to be in Atlanta.

The specific charge is that Clarke transported a woman from Houston to New Orleans on Feb. 11, 1921.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 1.—Edward Y. Clarke this afternoon issued a statement saying: "I am not guilty of the charge supposed to have been made against me."

UNCLE SAM PAYS
OFFICERS' DEBTS
TO LONDON BANKS

Institutions Reimbursed for Overdrafts of Americans Who Did Not Settle Accounts.

NEW YORK, March 1.—While Uncle Sam is being paid on the back for his debts, and straight-forwardly, and Englishmen are equally deserving of reimbursement, the American government is paying the debts of Americans who did not settle their accounts in this country.

A communication, sent to England, is adding daily sessions to the American government, thousands of dollars, while the historic banking firm of Messrs. Cox is overjoyed to receive the money from Washington about $25,000 to pay overdrafts of approximately 30 American officers. These military men during the war took advantage of the bank's liberality and then left England without settling their accounts.

The firm advanced thousands of pounds to a host of young officers and when the institution was absorbed by London recently the common exclamation among army men was: "Bang goes my overdraft."

For a century the house of Cox has considered men with commissions not only as officers and gentlemen, but also as being responsible for their debts.

The bank had little hope of reimbursing itself for the overdrafts because most of the officers had been discharged from the American army and their addresses were unknown. Consequently the firm was both surprised and gratified when it received the remittance from Washington.

GALLAGHER AND SHEAN NOT IRREPLACEABLE, COURT DECIDES

Action Brought by Shubert Company to Hold Them to Contract Dismissed.

By the Associated Press.
ST. LOUIS, March 1.—Gallagher and Shean, the variety team, are neither unique nor extraordinary in their services on the stage and hence not irreplaceable, Supreme Justice Delehanty decided today in dismissing an action brought by the Shubert Theatre Co. to enjoin the pair from playing in any but Shubert productions.

Justice Delehanty agreed with Messrs. Gallagher and Shean that it was absurd to class them with men like the late Enrico Caruso and the late Edwin Booth. He said they were merely good performers who, by chance of happening, had secured a good deal.

Edward F. Gallagher "played" for more than three hours before a courtroom audience yesterday, and collected only one laugh. That was when he answered "No." "Absolutely" to a question by his lawyer, and the attorney came back with the rest of the team's popular line, "Positive," Mr. Gallagher.

The February just closed was the coldest in St. Louis in six years, the average mean temperature being 30.1 degrees, which is 4.3 degrees below normal. The month also gave the city its coldest day of the present winter—Feb. 4, when the low temperature was 1 degree above zero. The snowfall was normal, 6.1 inches. It is recalled that last January was the first in the history of the city in which no snow fell.

W. BOURKE COCKRAN
DIES SUDDENLY
IN WASHINGTON

New York City Congressman Is Stricken After Making Speech on His Sixty-Ninth Birthday.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—Representative W. Bourke Cockran, Democrat of New York, died suddenly today.

Cockran, who celebrated his sixty-ninth birthday anniversary yesterday, became ill last night and died early today. He was on the floor of the House last night and made a spirited speech in opposition to the pending farm credits bill.

Cockran's death, which occurred at 2:10 o'clock, came as an immediate result of a stroke of apoplexy, it was said at his home.

Death After Birthday Dinner.
It was said at Cockran's home that he had complained of a headache about 1 o'clock this morning and shortly afterward had become unconscious. He never afterward regained consciousness. His physicians said a brain hemorrhage preceded death.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed. A statement issued by his secretary said: "Mr. Cockran had been feeling very well and working very hard. He made a speech in the House and in the evening it being his birthday, a few friends came in informally to dinner. He seemed in the best of health and spirits. He had been talking with Mr. Cockran for about half an hour after the guests had gone, when, about 1 a. m., he suddenly said he had a terrible headache and soon after that became unconscious. Mr. Hardin immediately was summoned and the last rites of the Catholic Church were administered. Mrs. Cockran was at his bedside until he died."

Expressions by Congressmen.
News of Cockran's sudden removal from the activities of Congress cast a shadow on the House as it reassembled today.

"I am shocked almost beyond expression," said Representative Garrett of Tennessee, the Democratic leader. "Mr. Cockran has been not only a nationally known but an internationally known character for more than 30 years. He was one of the foremost orators of all the centuries."

Uncle Joe Cannon said Cockran was the "most graceful and forceful speaker who had come to Congress in many years. Representative Mondell of Wyoming, the Republican floor leader, declared his death meant the passing of the "greatest orator of his time."

"He was a man of splendid talents and high character," said the Republican leader. His speeches brought memories of the school of Burke and Pitt, in England, and of our Webster and Clay."

Another who expressed poignant regret was Representative Volstead, Republican, Minnesota, creator of the law that bears his name.

"I had a real respect for Mr. Cockran's ability," he said. "We did not agree on some things but we were good friends."

The Foreign Affairs Committee adjourned out of respect for his memory and resolutions of regret were adopted.

Was Native of Ireland and Once a School Teacher.
W. Bourke Cockran was born in Sligo, Ireland, Feb. 28, 1854, and was educated in Ireland and France. He came to the United States in 1871, later taught in a private academy for a time and afterward became principal of a public school in Westchester County, New York. He was admitted to the bar in 1876, and soon became prominent in New York City politics.

He was a delegate to the Democratic State convention in 1881, and made noteworthy speeches at Democratic national conventions in 1884 and 1892, opposing the nomination of Grover Cleveland, and in 1920, at San Francisco, placing Gov. Smith of New York in nomination for the presidency.

Active for many years in the legal profession, he was for a number of years a member of the New York City Bar.

COURT AUTHORIZES
SALE OF PART OF
SHAW'S GARDEN

Order of Circuit Judge Davis Permits Trustees to Make Disposition as They See Fit.

An order for the sale of the unused portion of the Missouri Botanical (Shaw's) Garden was issued today by Circuit Judge Davis as requested by the board of trustees of the garden.

As has been told, the abandonment of approximately 50 of the garden's 120 acres has been forced by the encroachment of smoke, which is killing plant life in the garden increasingly. It is the intention of the board of trustees to offer the 50 acres as residential property and to use the $100,000 estimated as net proceeds to acquire a tract at from 30 to 50 miles from the city upon which to grow nearer to perfection flowers for the garden's show and shrubs and trees not now possible of culture in the city because of smoke.

The area to be sold is bounded on the west by a 100-foot strip of King's highway, on the northwest by Vandeventer avenue, on the north by Shaw avenue, on the south by Shenandoah avenue and on the east by a line drawn from Alfred and Shenandoah avenues, which is a continuation of Alfred avenue to the intersection of Alfred and Shaw avenues on the north.

The court decree authorizes the trustees to make whatever disposition of the tract they may see fit, and to use the proceeds to acquire a country adjunct for the garden.

Waves Farewell to Sightseers and Throws Away Papers Indicating He Is New York Tailor.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., March 1.—Waving farewell to three sightseers a short distance away, a man believed to be Nicholas Apostle, a former Buffalo tailor, leaped into the rapids a few feet above Niagara Falls today. A moment later he disappeared over the brink of the cataract.

Just before he jumped the man threw away a bill, fold containing papers bearing Apostle's name and former address. Card indicated he recently had been in business in New York City.

$2,664,900 BUILDING PERMITS
ISSUED DURING FEBRUARY

Building permits issued during February continued to maintain the 100 per cent increase over the corresponding period last year established during January.

Builders last month received permission to do work estimated at a total of $2,664,900, as compared with a total estimated cost of $1,366,735 for building during February, 1922.

In January permits were issued to a total of $2,664,900 against $1,158,530 for January, 1922. The total gain in building thus far this year over the first two months of 1922 is $2,823,865.

FRENCH TAKE SEVERE STEPS
TO GET TAX
ON RUHR COAL

Threat of Courtmartial, Jail and Fine for Stinnes and Others Who Fail to Pay 40 Per Cent Due or Oppose Efforts to Ship Reparations Fuel.

250 AUTOMOBILES SEIZED IN ONE DAY

Cars From Unoccupied Germany in Occupied Area Requisitioned; Bochum Police Expelled; Death for Railroad Sabotage.

By the Associated Press.
DUESSELDORF, March 1.—The question of collecting the 40 per cent tax on Ruhr coal came to the fore today in view of General Degoutte's announcement that refusal to meet this obligation would make offenders liable to trial by a courtmartial and would result in the seizure of coal at the mines. Before the occupation tax was paid to the Government, but the mine owners have refused to turn it over to the French and Belgians.

Under the new decree shipments to Holland and Switzerland will not be subject to the assessment.

Inasmuch as they have complete records of the production at all the mines, the French expect to be able to determine what each owner owes. By the decree Hugo Stinnes and other mine owners and directors are liable to trial by courtmartial, with possible imprisonment and fines, if they oppose the French and Belgian efforts to wrest from them shipments of fuel on account of reparations.

Based on German Laws.
These measures, drawn by the French authorities and based on existing German legislation, are designed to bring the owners themselves to terms. In view of the fact that the French and Belgians control the Ruhr main line railroads, they are now fairly well prepared to run a limited number of trains daily to their respective countries.

General Degoutte's order, which becomes effective immediately, provides against eventualities in the economic struggle and also calls for the seizure of coal at the pit-head in cases where the Germans refuse to pay the taxes, and gives the Franco-Belgian officials authority to refuse export licenses to any owners failing to comply with their demands.

The system of tax collection or assessments on coal is virtually the same as that of the German Government, to which owners are supposed to pay an internal tax of 40 per cent upon all coal taken from the mines. Since the occupation began the German owners have fairly refused to pay the tax. Owners will be taxed on a tonnage basis, according to production.

Motor Cars Requisitioned.
The requisitioning of motor cars by the French reached a stage of great activity yesterday, the total taken numbering 250, with Dueseldorf as the center for commandeered cars. All cars in the Ruhr were stopped and taken over unless the occupants could show authority to use them. The French give receipts for every car, only granting permission to travel to those belonging to the occupied territory; all cars entering the Ruhr from unoccupied territory are requisitioned.

Cars are being offered for sale at the very lowest prices, while British officials are overwhelmed with requests that they use cars of the Germans so as to ensure their safety.

Tobacco Factories Closed.
All the German police of Bochum and Herne, arrested yesterday by the occupational forces, have been transported away from their home towns. The French yesterday also occupied police headquarters in Rucklinghausen and arrested two officials. It is announced that the German police force will be dissolved there.

ELECTION MEETING SPEAKER REVEALED ASK KLAN LECTURER

The Rev. Lester E. Brown of Atlanta, Ga., Refrained From Mention of Ku Klux at East St. Louis Gathering

WAS INTRODUCED BY ALEXANDER FLANNIGAN

Appearance Last Night at Edwardsville Church Dis-closes His Advocacy of the Klan.

The appearance last night at Edwardsville in the First Baptist Church of the Rev. Lester E. Brown of Atlanta, Ga., as a lecturer for the Ku Klux Klan, disclosed he was a participant in an interesting night-before-election incident in East St. Louis, where he addressed a meeting and studiously refrained from mentioning the Ku Klux.

Monday was the day before the primary election in East St. Louis, and the klansmen over there had "very secretly" arranged to hold a rousing meeting in City Hall Auditorium to wind up their campaign in support of five candidates. Several thousand "admit one" cards were issued, merely announcing that Dr. Brown would speak on "Good Government."

Among the citizens of East St. Louis who had never heard of Dr. Brown and knew nothing of his connections with many of the Irish organizations who enjoy good government and who decided to attend the meeting, which was to begin promptly at 8 o'clock that night.

At that hour the auditorium was filled, there being about 1000 men and one woman present. But no speaker was there, and as the minutes passed the audience grew restive.

Shouts for "Flannigan." There is a city ordinance in East St. Louis forbidding use of city hall auditorium except for meetings open to all, which may account for police and detectives in civilian garb who were present in the building.

At about a quarter of 3 someone with a broad accent shouted, "Let's have Flannigan," and the audience, willing to divert themselves with any suggestion, promptly took up the chant of "Flannigan, Flannigan, Flannigan."

Alexander ("The Great") Flannigan, lawyer-politician emeritus, arose, bowed and took the platform. Flannigan announced that he was in favor of good government, and his friends shouted, "Hurrah for Flannigan." Then he danced, sang, recited poetry and exchanged quips with acquaintances in the audience and generally entertained himself.

In the midst of these antics, about 9:30 o'clock, a stranger entered and approached the platform. Flannigan paused and inquired, "Are you the speaker of the evening?"

"I am Dr. Brown," answered the stranger.

"I'm Flannigan," said Flannigan, "come right up."

Flannigan introduced speaker. Observing that there was no one to introduce the speaker or tell of the purpose of the meeting, Flannigan with quick wit arose to the situation and announced, "Ladies and gentlemen, allow me to introduce Dr. Brown, speaker of the evening."

Amid a chorus of hurrahs, Flannigan retired, and Dr. Brown spoke on the American flag and good government, which every one approved, and omitted mentioning the Ku Klux Klan, which was also approved.

When he finished there were cheers for Flannigan.

The reason for Dr. Brown arriving late was that the meeting was called off late in the afternoon, after it had been discovered that its true purpose had been disclosed by someone—that it was to be in the hands of the Ku Klux Klan and the political candidates it had endorsed.

But Dr. Brown had never, as he stated, disappointed an audience, and when he heard that night that an audience was awaiting him, his feet hit the floor, his hat hit his head, and there he was, better late than never, with a man to introduce him, thanks to Flannigan.

At Edwardsville last night about 300 men attended the meeting and cheered the speaker, after which applications for membership in the Klan were distributed.

W. BOURKE COCKRAN DIES SUDDENLY IN WASHINGTON

profession and in politics, Cockran was one of the picturesque forces in American public life. He was an orator of the old school, endowed with a remarkable voice and a delivery and diction that long ago won him a place among the most eloquent orators of the country.

In politics Cockran was a wheelhorse of Tammany Hall, whose battles he fought in New York and elsewhere on many occasions. At the Democratic national convention at San Francisco, when he made the speech nominating Gov. Al Smith for the presidency, his oratorical effort carried the convention into a prolonged demonstration of old-time "revival meeting" politics. He also addressed the convention in favor of a plank endorsing the manufacture of light wines and beer.

Voice Prevailed Against Isom. In 1932, when Tammany Hall fought the renomination of Grover Cleveland, the national convention was held in a ramshackle building on the lake front in Chicago. The Illinois Central tracks ran alongside the building and the sounds of steam whistles and ringing bells and rumbling trains were part of the convention proceedings. Cockran delivered Tammany's final protest against the nomination of Cleveland, spoke at a night session, and a terrific thunderstorm swept over the city, following a day of blistering heat.

Deafening crashes of thunder, accompanied by a continuous play of lightning, the piercing shrieks of locomotive whistles and the derisive jeering of the Cleveland followers were the forces that Cockran had to combat. With his remarkable voice and presence he went on, and even his enemies agreed that the effort, while futile, probably had been the most heroic and audacious in the political career of this Civil War hero.

In recent years he had devoted much attention to the fight for Irish freedom, appearing before congressional committees and on the public platform prior to organization of the Free State to plead for American recognition of the Irish republic. On these occasions his eloquence was at its best as he recounted from personal observation the privations of the poorer class in Ireland from which he had sprung.

Elected to House in 1887. Cockran first was elected to the House of Representatives for a term in 1887. He came back in 1891 for two more terms, but in 1896 he declined to follow the free silver banner, and was elected to the House of Representatives in 1900, when he was again elected to the House.

This time he remained there for five years, at the end of which time he declined to become a candidate for re-election. In 1920, however, he again yielded to the lure of the parliamentary game and took to the House, and was again elected to a seat in the House. He was re-elected last November.

He had been specially active during the present session of Congress and had planned a trip to Europe this summer. Until a few days ago he apparently had been in perfect health.

Although he liked to take part in debate and had raised his voice in many recent discussions on the House floor, Cockran was not a seeker after committee honors. His only committee assignment in the present Congress was as a member of the Foreign Affairs Committee, but in that capacity he found an opportunity to study and influence action on most of the questions of foreign policy with which the House has had to deal.

Cockran married Miss Anne Ide, daughter of Henry Clay Ide, in New York City on Nov. 5, 1906. It was said at the time that he had settled $50,000 on his bride and his wedding gift to her was a $25,000 string of pearls.

An unrelenting foe of the prohibition amendment and the Volstead act, Cockran never lost an opportunity to denounce what he termed their "invasion of personal liberty." Often on the House floor he voiced in vigorous terms his protest against laws which he said attempted to govern the morals of the people, and on these occasions his appearance in debate always was a signal for a scurrying of the members from the cloakrooms to hear him.

He was quick at repartee and unusually nimble in debate, with the result that few questions were hurled at him during his speeches, which always were extemporaneous.

One of Cockran's biggest efforts came during the recent fluery in the House, aroused by Representative Upshaw's demand that public officials observe the letter of the dry laws. At that time, in an impassioned address of an hour, he told the House that the Volstead act never could be enforced.

In the last speech, delivered in the House last night against the farm credits bill, Cockran spoke with all his usual fire and dash. He gave the House a word picture of the attempts he said had been made for several hundred years to improve conditions by similar methods, and declared they always had proved disastrous.

"Any law which endeavors to help one class of people at the expense of the other class," he shouted, "leads to ruin."

All economic laws, he said, would be violated by application of the bill, adding that the farmer needed only self-reliance, economy and thrift.

"You want to feed him, by the terms of this bill," he said, "more than his securities are worth. That is bad banking and the money is going to come out of the pockets of the taxpayers."

Cockran was pessimistic in his remarks about world conditions. "The dark clouds," he said, were hovering everywhere.

SAUSAGE MILL AND SKINNERS' STRIKE CUTS 'WURST' SUPPLY

Lockout Following Walkout Closes 37 Plants and 100 German Factories May Shut Down.

By the Associated Press. —Berlin's sausage supply is threatened, and anxiety over the "wurst" temporarily, at least, has crowded out the worry over the Ruhr coal situation.

A partial strike by the livestock skimmers, followed by a lockout instituted by the employers' association, already has rendered 37 sausage and meat canning factories idle, and fears are being expressed for the city's fresh meat supply in view of the possibility of the movement ultimately closing 1000 plants.

MRS. SALUDES' STATUS AS WIFE QUESTIONED

Woman on Trial for Murder in New York Undergoes Cross-Examination.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, March 1. — Mrs. Paulette Saludes, on trial for the murder of Oscar Martelliere, insurance broker, was cross-examined today.

Assistant District Attorney Brothers challenged the right of the witness to bear the name of wife and in his questions intimated that she was frequently with other men aside from Martelliere.

Brothers wrung from her admissions that she had gone on automobile rides and boat trips up the Hudson with men other than Martelliere after her husband, James Saludes, had sailed on a business trip to France.

Mrs. Saludes said Martelliere, after he had won her love, induced her to write her husband he need not come back from France.

A high court judge asked when in response to a question whether Martelliere had not treated her well after they had taken an apartment, she said: "He took me to the movies twice a week and to dinner only on Sundays."

Her impassiveness was broken yesterday as she pictured to the jury her mental distress at the deceit she said that Martelliere practiced upon her, weaving her from her husband and stealing from both their small property.

She told of her attempt at suicide when she discovered her predicament—but of the shooting Martelliere, she said she remembered nothing.

On the day of the murder she went to Martelliere's office and reproached him for what she said were lies about her husband's theft of property, imposing upon her affections and unfaithfulness in his professed devotion to her.

Mrs. Saludes said Martelliere teased her, broke down and wept, and money he took on the mortgage of her home, where he lived with her, and the proceeds of the sale of her automobile.

"I asked, 'What about me?' Mrs. Saludes testified, 'You can't let me go down into the street.' He said: 'What do I care?' He went out and slammed the door."

She broke down upon telling this and exclaimed that she had found in his papers "only lies and lies and lies. He was untrue from the very beginning and he was working me like a dog, and he was taking my money, like he took every other woman—and I found the revolver in his front drawer and I had only an idea to kill myself."

She said she didn't realize until the next morning that she had shot Martelliere.

DWIGHT DAVIS SOON WILL BE ACTING SECRETARY OF WAR

Secretary Weeks Plans Vacation Trip to Europe and Inspection Tours.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. WASHINGTON, March 1. —The coming departure of Secretary of War Weeks, next Saturday or Monday, for a vacation trip to Florida means that Dwight D. Davis of St. Louis, whose nomination by the President to be Assistant Secretary of War is now before the Senate, will hardly be inducted into office before he will become acting Secretary of War.

As Weeks' summer plans include a vacation trip to Panama and Porto Rico and a rest at his New Hampshire country home, it is likely that Davis will be the acting head of the nation's military establishment during the Secretary's absence.

The Secretary's prospective absence, it was said at the War Department today, caused him to be especially careful in picking an assistant. Davis became his personal choice because he had looked into the qualifications of a large group of aspirants.

After a formal introduction at the War Department today by Assistant Secretary of War Vinton, who will succeed Davis spent an hour with Weeks and Wainwright in familiarizing himself with his new duties. Should any hitch in the Senate prevent the confirmation of Davis at this session, the President in all probability would immediately give him a recess appointment.

HYDE ASKS 4 SHERIFFS TO MAINTAIN ORDER

Action Follows Report Negroes Are Being Driven From Southeastern Counties.

Gov. Hyde has sent telegrams to Sheriffs of four Southeast Missouri counties—Dunklin, Pemiscot, Mississippi and Scott—asking them to maintain order.

His action followed a statement yesterday that he had received several complaints from Southeast Missouri that negroes were being warned to depart by white residents. Mayor Hurd of Caruthersville said to the Post-Dispatch over the telephone that about a dozen such warnings were reported in Caruthersville to have been made in adjacent cotton-growing territory.

The telegram of the Governor was: "I have just received reports regarding intimidation of negroes in your county. State must rely on you to maintain order and protect peaceful citizens. Use all available means to do so. Case report conditions immediately."

Negroes came to Southeast Missouri last autumn in large number and went to work in cotton fields. The officials, including the general manager, the workers immediately struck, demanding the release of those arrested.

At Duesseldorf the French seized all the tobacco, cigarettes and supplies of two large cigarette factories when the directors refused to pay the excise duty to the occupying forces instead of the German Government. The duty demanded from one of these firms amounted to $250,000 marks. Both the plants were closed.

The death penalty is prescribed in cases of railroad sabotage that might cause loss of life and the penalties for many other offenses have been greatly increased in two ordinances adopted yesterday by the Interallied Rhineland High Commission at Coblenz. Some of the penalties in the new ordinances are multiplied by 300, and many offenses are punishable by five years' imprisonment and 5,000,000 marks fine.

English Coal Cheaper in Germany Than in U. S.

Berlin, March 1. —English coal has become cheaper in Germany than in the United States, and the price is increasing every week. Minister of Economy Becker told the Budget Committee of the Reichstag yesterday. He added that all German railroads were running on English coal.

He explained that coal and iron are being produced in the Ruhr, but that none comes to unoccupied Germany, although industry is so far unaffected by the shortage. Becker said the recovery of the mark made it possible for unoccupied Germany to buy coal and iron from abroad. Steel and pig iron from countries other than France and Belgium are allowed to enter Germany free of duty so that industry can keep going.

$534,078 Raised Toward $1,081,684 Community Fund; Campaign to End Monday

Heavy Proportion of Amount Pledged Thus Far to Come From Large Subscribers; Rest Must Be Obtained in Smaller Sums.

Workers for the $1,081,684 Community Fund for 1933 today reported pledges of $116,562.26 at their luncheon. This amount increases the total of subscriptions since the start of the campaign Saturday to a total of $534,078. The campaign, scheduled to close Monday, is to provide funds for this year's work of 40 charities in St. Louis and St. Louis County.

Speakers at the luncheon today urged the workers to push their efforts to obtain substantial subscriptions. Today's pledges brought the total near the half-way mark of the budget set for the 40 charities, but the workers were told they would have to redouble their efforts if the quota is obtained by Monday.

Leaders pointed out that a large proportion of the pledges received thus far represent large gifts by a comparatively small number of donors, and that the bulk of the fund yet to be raised must be obtained in smaller sums from many contributors.

Subscriptions totaling $12,000 by the Busch family and interests were announced today, including $2,500 by August A. Busch, $2,500 by Mrs. Lily Busch, $5,000 by the Anheuser-Busch Brewing Co., and $2,000 from other Busch companies.

Seventeen subscriptions of $1,000 or more were reported. The Liggett-Meyer Tobacco Co. subscribed $200; Polar Wave Ice and Fuel Co., $200; and John W. Fristoe, $200. Pledges of $1,500 were made by Warren T. McGraw, William R. Compton Co., John P. Shenley and the Shapleigh Hardware Co., F. A. Sudthoff subscribed $1,200.

Donors of $1,000 included Francis H. Peck, Joseph Pulitzer, William H. Elliott, Butler Bros., John D. Filley, J. J. Frey, Mrs. George O. Williams, Moses Shoenberg and Oscar Herz.

The Executive Committee of the campaign held a meeting last night to consider the problem of completing the fund. Conspicuous in the discussion was Harry P. Wareheim, manager of the Community Chest of St. Louis, N. Y., a similar organization. He was asked to assist in an advisory capacity in the first annual solicitation here. Unless drastic action to focus public attention on the needs of charity is taken, he said in effect, the campaign will be a failure. He said pledges up to yesterday should have totaled at least $500,000.

Foster, Wade Increases Donation.

Foster, Wade, an honorar vice chairman of the Community Fund, said in a talk at the "report luncheon" yesterday: "I don't believe the people of St. Louis realize they are contributing to 40 different organizations when they are contributing to the Community Fund. I did not when I made my original subscription of $500. That is just a little more than $10 to each agency and, after thinking it over, I am ashamed of myself. I'm going to add another $1,000 to my first gift."

In addition to the increase of Wade's subscription, other pledges reported yesterday, totaling $32,975, were:

$5,000 each—Thomas H. West, Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. $2,500—Mrs. George Warren $2,500—Miss Eunice Smith.

$2,000 each—Mrs. Alice Smith, Roxana Petroleum Corporation, Boyd-Richardson Co., Mr. and Mrs. Robert McK. Jones.

$1,000 each—Mrs. John H. Dunham, the Post-Dispatch, Samuel H. Fullerton, Lansing P. Smith, J. Herndon Smith, J. Kennard & Sons Carpet Co.

$75—Mrs. Percival Chubb. $75—Western Tie & Timber Co. $500 each—Mrs. Elias Michael.

JURY COMPLETED FOR SECOND HERRIN TRIAL

Three Union Men Members of Body — Testimony to Begin Monday.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. MARION, Ill., March 1. —The jury for the second Herring massacre trial was completed today, two and a half weeks after the case was called. It required five weeks for the selection of the jury in the first trial. Opening statements will be made tomorrow and hearing of testimony begun Monday.

Without even questioning W. T. Poole, 60 years old, a coal miner, the defense accepted the State's final tender of four talesmen. The final panel accepted as talesmen John Mohler, farmer, Austin Moulton, farmer and brother-in-law of John Mohler; Lee Chandler of Marion, shoe repairer, and W. T. Poole of Marion, miner. Poole is the oldest member of the jury, and John Clark, 23, a nonunion chauffeur and student, is the youngest. Three members of the jury are union men, Poole and Malcolm Thromgorton being miners and Rolfe Edwards a union painter.

Other jurors are: Thomas Cox, T. J. Thromgorton, Nathan Barnes and Henry Borum, farmers, and John Coughlin, orchardist.

Six men are defendants in the present trial. They are: Hugh Williams, member of the executive board of the Illinois miners' union; Otto Clark, Bert Grace, Philip Fontenot, Oscar Howard and James Brown, negro. They are charged with murder in connection with the death of Antonio Mulvihack, one of the 23 nonunion men killed in the rioting.

Clark and Grace were among the five defendants in the first trial, at which a verdict of acquittal was returned.

The State announced that it did not consider the first nor does it regard this trial as its stronger case.

The State in the examination of talesmen did not inquire whether the prospective jurors favored the death penalty.

EXHUMATION OF TUTANKHAMEN'S BODY OPPOSED BY UNDERTAKERS

Association Declares Dead Should Be Honored, Even After 3000 Years.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, March 1. —Amateur undertakers of Greater New York yesterday rose to protest against exhumation of Tutankhamen. Meeting to consider the advice of Egyptologists, the undertakers decided that the dead should be honored, even 3000 years after burial.

"The mummies in our museums have no business being there," declared Frank E. Campbell, head of the organization. "They should be restored to the tombs from which they were removed."

That is impossible, Alton Baptist Association declared Prof. Sullen is essentially an evangelist of the Christian Church in the United States, while they are Western.

JAMES J. JEFFRIES FILES
PETITION IN BANKRUPTCY

Former Boxer Lists Liabilities as $292,163 and Assets at $120,950—
Unable to Name All Creditors.

By the Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, March 1.—James J. Jeffries, formerly heavyweight boxing champion of the world, who filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in the United States District Court here yesterday, apparently is uncertain as to the number of his creditors and what he owes each.

In his petition he asked permission of the court to be allowed to amend his bill by inserting the names of creditors and amounts due them as he learned who and what they were. He gave his total liabilities as $292,163 and his total assets as $120,950.

Among the assets listed were 22,000 shares of the Nevada Smokeless Powder Co., 10,000 shares of the Jeffries Development Co., 5000 units of the Bishop Community Gold Producers and 102 units of the Fillmore Community Oil Co. He said that of his assets, $124,500 represented real estate and that he secured claims against him totaled $88,266, and unsecured $98,000.

It was stated there was money due the Jeffries Development Co. from attempted oil development of the company in Texas.

RED PEPPER HEAT
ENDS RHEUMATISM

Red Pepper Rub takes the "ouch" from sore, stiff, aching joints. It can't hurt you, and it certainly stops that old rheumatism torture at once.

When you are suffering so you can hardly get around, just try Red Pepper Rub and you will have the quickest relief known. Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers. Just as soon as you apply Red Pepper Rub you will feel the tingling heat. In three minutes it warms the sore spot through and through. Pain and soreness are gone.

Ask any good druggist for a jar of Rowles Red Pepper Rub. Be sure to get the genuine, with the name Rowles on each package.

Loosen Up That Cold
With Musterole

Have Musterole handy when a cold starts. It has all the advantages of grandmother's mustard plaster WITH-OUT the blister. You just apply it with the fingers. First you feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then comes a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief.

Made of pure oil of mustard and other simple ingredients, Musterole is recommended by many nurses and doctors. Try Musterole for bronchitis, sore throat, stiff neck, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, cramp, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pain and aches of the back or joints, sore muscles, sprains, bruises, chilblains, frostbitten feet, colds of the chest. It may prevent pneumonia and "flu." 25c and 65c, jars and tubes.

BLIND NEGRESS TELLS
HOW SHE KILLED MAN

Had Him Sit Beside Her on Couch, Then Used Knife, She Says.

Circumstances under which a blind negress stabbed and killed a negro who had angered her, were related to a Post-Dispatch reporter today by Estelle Penix, self-confessed slayer, at Carr Street Police Station, where she is held awaiting action by the grand jury.

Crawford Parker, 34, of 714A North Sixteenth street, the negro whom she admits slaying, was found dead in a room at 705 1/2 North Sixteenth street, on the night of Jan. 14. Police found the Penix woman, and her aunt and uncle, Robert and Mary Gillispie, in the house when they arrived.

She said today that Parker had slapped her two days before the murder and she swore vengeance at the time. Parker took her threat lightly, she said.

Engaging Parker in a conversation, she got him to sit beside her, to her left, on a couch. She knew his wife, was certain of his identity, and then she acted. She opened a small knife concealed in a pocket on the right side of her dress, felt to see how near he was seated to her and then struck. She had gauged the distance correctly, the knife entering just above his heart. She struck again, and he warded off the blow, but his wrist was cut. He called to Mary Gillispie, in another room at the time, and fell over dead. The Penix woman is 22 years old. She has been blind since she was 2 years old. She resides at 1410 Morgan street.

200 Automobiles Burned. Special to the Post-Dispatch. MONTREAL, March 1.—Snow was used by firemen in fighting a fire which destroyed 200 automobiles and a garage here today. The loss was $250,000.

FIVE MEN ARE IN WORKHOUSE AFTER CARELESS DRIVING

Irresponsible Handling of Automobiles Caused Death of Innocent Citizens in Three Instances.

Five men are in the workhouse as a result of the heightened severity of judges and juries in punishing drivers held responsible for automobile accidents, with plenty of time, between the stone quarry, the paint shop, carpentry shop and broom factory, to meditate upon the precepts of careful driving.

Most of them are sustained, however, by that real staff of human life—an unshakable conviction of their own righteousness. For instance, a clerk, looking one of the drivers for a year's penance at hard labor, noticed the charge was "manslaughter" and remarked: "That's a pretty bad charge they've got against you."

Three There for Manslaughter.

"It is if you're guilty," was the answer.

Two of the five accidents, three of which were fatal, occurred at night, and in one case the driver admitted he had had a few drinks and was not clear as to what had happened. As indicated above, there is small chance of either being out at night or "having a few drinks" at the workhouse, but plenty of opportunity to concentrate on the necessity of caution in dealing with an alert and unforgiving world where pedestrians have the majority.

Working hours begin at 8 a. m., with breakfast at about 8:30. The day, at this time of the year, is spent in making brooms, repairing park benches or enameling beds from city institutions. At 4 p. m. the shops are closed and every man is locked in his cell, there to divert himself by reading, writing, studying, drawing or self-communion until 3 p. m., when the lights are out.

Stone Quarry in the Offing.

The stone quarry is not running at this season, but will be opened in a month or two, when those who have not shown themselves apt at more skilled work will have a trial in it.

The five automobile drivers are: Walter Forstner, 21, a chauffeur, fined $500 by a jury Dec. 20 for the death of Charles Ruggier, 2 years old.

Edward Brockman, 26, a chemist, sentenced to one year on his plea of guilty Feb. 29 to manslaughter for the death of Robert M. Dickens, 14. Arthur Baker, 30, a bartender, who has six months more to serve of a one-year jury sentence, for felonious wounding of Mrs. Jennie Sanguinet, 50.

Herman Rosenkrantz, 37, a glazier, sentenced to six months Jan. 25 for the death of Mrs. Margaret Riesenman, 76.

Archie Kessler, 24, a laborer, who on April 8 will complete a six months' sentence on his plea of guilty to felonious wounding of John Trice.

Forstner went to the Workhouse today. He was unable to pay his fine and must serve it out at the rate of $1 a day. Confinement in the Workhouse, however, is limited to one year. Baker was sentenced on Jan. 21, 1921, was paroled, but failed to report on his parole, and so was sent back to the Workhouse on Jan. 30.

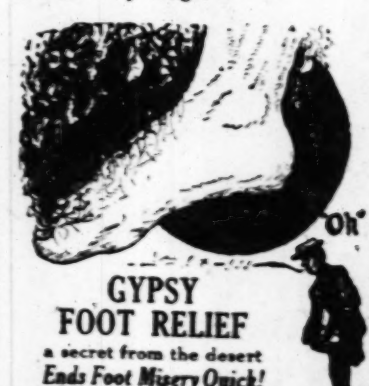

Five Measles Cases in One Family.

Dr. Lloyd L. Heid, temporary superintendent at the City Hospital, said today that measles have been prevalent in St. Louis for the last month. There are 17 measles patients now at the City Hospital, six of whom were received last night. Five of the six were from one family. They were Mrs. Virginia Fox, 35, of 3454 Mackinac avenue and her four children, the eldest of whom is six years old.

SPEAKERS PREDICT U. S. MEMBERSHIP IN LEAGUE

But They Agree It Will Come Only After Vigorous Work to Crystallize Public Opinion.

The United States will ultimately become a participant in an association of nations of some kind, but not without vigorous and united work toward the crystallization of a public opinion realizing that only through such a body can permanent peace be obtained. This was the declaration of several speakers yesterday at a conference in Hotel Statler in the interest of the League of Nations Nonpartisan Association.

The meeting, which was attended by about 45 persons, who included adherents of both major political parties, passed a resolution endorsing President Harding's action in asking the Senate's consent to membership of the United States in the permanent International Court of Justice and urging immediate favorable action by the Senate on the question.

Copies of the resolution will be telegraphed to President Harding and to Senator Lodge, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee. Decision was made to hold a mass meeting, to advance the work of the association, on April 6, the anniversary of the United States' entrance into the world war. Mrs. Philip N. Moore presided.

Change to Opposition. "The greatest tragedy in recent years was the changing of the United States from a people 99 per cent in favor of a league of nations to a country with a seemingly great opposition to such a body," declared Rabbi Louis Witt of Temple Shaare Emeth. This was no inherent opposition, he said, but one born of partisan politics, personalities and organized propaganda.

"America has become cowardly," he continued, "has cast aside the glorious courage which led it into the war without stopping to count the possible great cost and has now grown miserably cautious. The biggest things about the League of Nations is its support of liberalized thought and ideals. The United States, the greatest liberal in the world, must join earnestly in this great work. Only then will there be peace and progress."

Casper Yost, editor of the editorial page of the Globe-Democrat, described the formation of the Permanent International Court of Justice. He declared it was composed of "independent judges, representing no individual countries and not subject to control by the League of Nations." The United States could join the World Court, as proposed by the President, without becoming involved in the League, he said.

Some Obstacles Pointed Out. Confusion of public thought, the ignorance, prejudices and passions of groups of people working only for what they conceived to be their own interests, were declared by George S. Johns, editor of the editorial page of the Post-Dispatch, to be the greatest obstacles in the way of the United States entering an association of nations. He said the question could not be kept out of politics because party leaders would always be alert to seize upon anything offering a possible partisan device.

"Our task is to work for an enlightened, well-defined, crystallized public opinion demanding action on one kind of an association of nations and realizing that such action, if the end, means peace," he declared. "This is a work of education, of evolution and can't be accomplished in a day."

Johns said the time was coming when the decisions of the World Court would be law, enforceable not only by moral suasion, as now, but by the physical strength of the civilized nations of the world, outlawing or punishing as criminals those nations seeking to practice aggression by disregarding justice.

The Rev. Dr. George Campbell, pastor of the St. Louis Church Federation, asserted that all church people favored a league of nations of some kind. "Christ was the first great internationalist," he said. "He taught a world terms, sympathized with all peoples. Had the United States been in the League of Nations before Eastern massacres and other atrocities would never have occurred."

"President Harding has now done something with his World Court proposal to the Senate, but we must demand more of him. The President, be Republican party or any other party in power will be driven by public opinion to take up the league. Our commercial outlook, our moral sense will demand it."

The Rev. Dr. Ivan Le Holt of St. John's M. E. Church said that he had found, on the second of two trips abroad since 1920, that Europe had turned from thinking of the United States as a nation of great deals to one which would act only from the most selfish, materialistic reasons. "Our country, which held the moral leadership of the world a few short months ago, has now almost buried it direct into the face of God," he declared.

SAYS HUNDREDS OF YOUNG MEN LEARN DRUG USE IN PRISON

Al G. Blakey, Who Has Resigned From Penal Board, Pleads for Intermediate Reformatory.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, March 1.—Three hundred or more boys and young men, 16 to 30 years old, first offenders mostly, are in the State Penitentiary learning to use drugs, being forced into vicious practices and receiving tuition in crime from confirmed felons, a Senate committee was told last night by Al G. Blakey, one of the Penal Commissioners. Blakey, who has resigned effective March 30, because he has refused longer to accept responsibility for conditions prevailing in the State Reformatory for Boys at Booneville, pleaded for the establishment of an intermediate reformatory for youths who are first offenders.

Circuit Attorney Howard Sidener of St. Louis; Miss Carol Bates, also of St. Louis, secretary of the Missouri Welfare League, and Homer Talbot, secretary of the State Board of Charities and Corrections, also appeared in the same capacity. The hearing was before the Senate Committee on Eleemosynary and Penal Institutions, of which Senator Brogan of St. Louis is chairman.

Hard Fight by Warden. "Warden Hill has made a hard fight against the drug habit in the penitentiary," Blakey said, "and has confiscated large quantities of narcotics, caught and discharged employees involved in it, obtained detection and punishment of outsiders concerned in the traffic, but still it goes on."

"We have many confirmed criminals in the prison, some of them steeped in viciousness from long careers of crime, some of them degenerates. It seems to be a delight with these men to fasten on to a youngster with the bloom of youth in his cheeks and lead him into the horrors of the drug habit with stories of the thrills and delights of narcotic dreams. They boast of it. And they teach them the fine arts of crime. And that is not the worst by half. I am not giving you idle talk, for I have a list of the names and numbers of the convicts concerned."

"Why don't we stop it? I answer that it is utterly impossible to keep a sufficiently close supervision over the 2100 convicts to accomplish that end."

Offers Reformatory Plan. "A penitentiary is literally a hell and I ask you to make it possible to give the boys who are sent here often for acts which are more a result of recklessness than of criminal instinct, a chance to be reclaimed, rather than to have their souls dragged down into vice and hopeless crime."

Blakey, who formerly was superintendent of the reformatory at Booneville, advocated use of the State prison farm at Alton, four miles east of Jefferson City, where, he said, stone may be obtained from the State's own quarry to construct buildings with the labor of first offenders themselves for the intermediate reformatory. He said that for the present biennium $150,000 would suffice to make a start on the necessary buildings and plant. Fifty first offenders could be taken out of the penitentiary the day the law went into effect, and put to work on the farm and in six months, as the venture got under way, another 50 could be used, and so on until the change had been made for the entire 200 the institution is planned to accommodate in the beginning. The Missouri Conference for Social Reforms and numerous other social agencies, including the State Board of Charities and Corrections, have urged the change which Gov. Hyde advocated in his message to the Legislature.

Stop Eating Meat For One Month END RHEUMATISM!

Heavy eaters of meat suffer most from rheumatism and kidney troubles. That's because meat contains certain acids which aggravate and prolong these disorders. If you really want to get rid of rheumatism, stop meat entirely for one month, and at the same time take Anti-Vit to cleanse your system of accumulated poisons.

Anti-Vit is a remarkable blood purifier and tonic, composed of herbal ingredients. It also has a beneficial effect upon the kidneys, helping them to cast off the poisonous waste matter with which they are now overburdened. Anti-Vit is sold on a positive guarantee of money back if it fails to give relief. Your money is in any case of rheumatism or kidney trouble. Price $1.00 at drug and health.

MURDER CHARGES AGAINST 11 OKLAHOMA CITIZENS DROPPED

Action Follows Acquittal of Jeff Smith in Connection With Killing of Alleged Bootlegger.

By the Associated Press.
ARDMORE, Ok., March 1.—Eleven prominent citizens of Carter County are free of charges of murder in connection with the slaying of Joe Carroll of Wilson, an alleged bootlegger and organizer of an anti-Ku Klux Klan demonstration. Carroll was shot down on his own doorstep when he resisted masked men who attempted to seize him at his home, late on the night of Dec. 15, 1921. Two weeks before he had been warned to leave town in a communication signed "K. K. K. No. 18." He defied the warning in a statement published in a newspaper and led what he called an "anti-Ku Klux Klan" parade through the streets of Wilson.

Two of the masked raiders were fatally wounded before they were driven off by members of Carroll's household.

Jeff Smith of Healdton, the only defendant brought to trial, was acquitted by a jury yesterday after a second hearing of his case. The first trial last month resulted in a jury disagreement.

Cases against the other 10 were dismissed by District Judge Freeman on motion of County Attorney Hodge when the Smith jury reported after a jury had been sworn in for their joint trial.

COAL TRUCK NEARLY WRECKED BUNGALOW, MAKING DELIVERY

Owners of House Hold Vehicle Until Bond is Given in Damage Suit for $2000.

A big, heavy truck loaded with coal nearly wrecked the bungalow of Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Brooker, at 629 West Park avenue, at 5 p. m. yesterday, when, in attempting to deliver its cargo at the house next door, it struck a projection and pushed the front wall of the Brookers home away from the west side support.

A crack nearly half an inch wide now runs from the ground to the top of the bungalow, a petition filed immediately after the accident asserts, and so the Brookers are suing the East St. Louis Drayage Co., owners of the truck, for $2000, and have attached the truck until bond is given.

Prompt action prevented the driver's removing his truck last night. Brooker got an attorney, who telephoned the Circuit Court Clerk, who got a Deputy Sheriff, and the trio served the attachment.

CITY PLAN ENGINEER NAMED ON SIMILAR NEW YORK BOARD

Harland Bartholomew With Famous Experts to Advise on Laying Out Great Metropolitan Area.

Harland Bartholomew, engineer for the City Plan Commission, has been appointed a member of the advisory board to lay out a metropolitan area of 59,000 square miles for the City of New York.

His conference area Raymond Union of London, Thomas Adams, distinguished Canadian planner, Edward H. Bennett of Chicago, and Frederick Law Olmstead of Brookline, Mass. The engineer in charge of field work will be Nelson P. Lewis, engineer for the Board of Estimate of New York City.

The work is proceeding under a grant by the Russell Sage Foundation and is designed to provide New York with a plan for future growth which regards New Jersey as part of its commercial and industrial area.

Three Queens Visit Centennarian.

LONDON, March 1.—Mrs. E. C. Tylden of Sandringham was the proudest woman in all England recently when she celebrated her one hundredth birthday and had as her guests three Queens. Queen Mary called first to offer her congratulations. Later in the day Queen Alexandra and then Queen Olga of Greece honored her with a visit. To mark the celebration Mrs. Tylden, who owns considerable property, returned a portion of the rent paid by each of her tenants.

Be Sure to Eat Plenty

If Troubled With Sour, Gassy Stomach Use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets After Eating.

Just because the stomach gets sour after eating don't scare yourself into starving. Sweeten your stomach

The Big Fellows Who Do the Big Work Are No Stronger Than Their Stomachs.

With one or two Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and tackle the next meal without fear. The average person needs a lot of good food to supply his bulk with sufficient nourishment. And if the food sours from indigestion give the stomach the alkaline effect it needs and you then keep up your strength. The big sturdy fellows who tackle the big jobs of life are no stronger than their stomachs, hence Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are really invaluable to anyone inclined to indigestion. Eat what you like, pie, cheese, sausage, pickles, fried eggs or baked beans and let these tablets keep your stomach sweet and comfortable. You can get a 50 cent box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at any druggist.

DISPLEASURE
BRITISH
OVER HARAmbassador Dis
Indebted

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, March 1.—A Harvey's speech of last which he discussed the causes and the nature of tain's war indebtedness to States, evoked expressions of pleasure in British official day and gives indication considerable discussion.

The Foreign Office comment on the address reliably stated that A Harvey's remarks, particularly as the case was put, he challenged the British to issue a statement of the Balfour note of last August considered to be unusual, even.

Ambassador Harvey's that Great Britain had asked to guarantee and guarantee the payment of a dollar loan by the United States for the use of any amount than Great Britain itself, today as one of the notations of his address a "grace" dinner last evening. Harvey quoted from a note of last August that "Under the agreement of the United States, insisting that it not in form, that, though were to spend the money, on our security that they were to lend it."

The ambassador said doubt that the British would "with equal formless explicitness remove apprehension created by a tune allusion."

The dinner was given by Stanley Baldwin, chance exchequer, who headed financial mission to Washington.

The Prince of Wales as pilgrims by dropping in. Others at the dinner the Duke of Devonshire, sultan Ambassador, Dr. field, Viscount Peel, Sir P. enson, Horne, Sir J. Graeme, Viscount Darnley, Hamar Greenwood, R. Worthington-Evans, Capt. L. Hussey, Naval Attaché American Embassy, and Skinner, the American general at London.

"A Vital World Problem," said Ambassador Harvey, "We have met to debate achievement. I do not generate when I pronounce conclusive settlement of vital world problem. It involves the greatest financial transaction in history; it bore the enhancement of mutual belief, the averting ship of the two great which the entire world preservation of solvency, which are essential to the happiness of all men. The task was one of magnitude, said Harvey, justice of terms relative. The great majority presented conclusive evidence of gratification United States, and the manifested in Great Britain "eloquent testimony of relief, even joy."

The United Kingdom Ambassador, "continued the rock of financial international honor."

"Great Britain was no guarantee, and never did the payment of a loan by the United States to use of any country other than herself," was the subject of guarantee. The United States, the Ambassador, volunteered pledge that Great Britain be held to account for the supplies delivered to representatives for transport to be used by another. "In point of fact," "a very considerable part of the debt of Great Britain to the United States was incurred by the purchase of food and people living in England. Harvey pointed out advance made by the to any ally was hundreds of dollars to Great Britain to discharge a portion and maintain her credit and also that the United States released to Great Britain amount of the highest and shares as security. "The obligation thus added Harvey, "constituted the debt which is now the British Government securities. Surely a repayment of such a loan might be regarded as a shock demanding a dash."

U. S. Obligated to that the United States obliged to borrow $100 million to England and also United States had loaned other allies $6,000,000. It had received no still paying at the rate—over $250,000,000 well as taxing its own. He pointed out the

DISPLEASURE EXPRESSED IN BRITISH OFFICIAL CIRCLES
OVER HARVEY'S DEBT SPEECHAmbassador Discussed Underlying Causes of Indebtedness, Saying Loans Were to Britain Itself.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, March 1.—Ambassador Harvey's speech of last night, in which he discussed the underlying causes and the nature of Great Britain's war indebtedness to the United States, evoked expressions of displeasure in British official circles today and gives indication of causing considerable discussion.

The Foreign Office declined to comment on the address, but it is reliably stated that Ambassador Harvey's remarks, particularly when, as the case was put, he virtually challenged the British Government to issue a statement refuting the Balfour note of last August, were considered to be unusual for a foreign envoy.

Ambassador Harvey's assertion that Great Britain had not been asked to guarantee and never did guarantee the payment of a single dollar loan by the United States, and that Great Britain itself stood out today as one of the noteworthy utterances of his address at the Pilgrims' dinner last evening.

Harvey quoted from the Balfour note of last August the phrase "Under the agreement arrived at the United States, insuring in substance, if not in form, that though our allies were to spend the money, it was only on our security that they were prepared to lend it."

The ambassador said he did not doubt that the British Government would "with equal formality and no less explicitness remove the misapprehension created by this unfortunate allusion."

The dinner was given in honor of Stanley Baldwin, chancellor of the exchequer, who headed the recent financial mission to Washington.

The Prince of Wales surprised the Duke of Devonshire, the Italian Ambassador, Dr. Joseph Chamberlain, Viscount Peel, Sir Robert Stevenson, Sir Philip Lloyd-Graeme, Viscount Davenport, Sir Hamar Greenwood, Sir Laming Worthington-Evans, Captain Charles H. Hussey, Naval Attaché of the American Embassy, and Robert P. Skinner, the American Consul-General at London.

"A Vital World Problem," Ambassador Harvey, in his speech, said:

"We have met to celebrate a great achievement. I do not think I exaggerate when I pronounce it the first conclusive settlement of a really vital world problem since the armistice. It involves far more than the greatest financial transaction reported in history. It bodes with it enhancement of mutual respect and, I firmly believe, the everlasting friendship of the two great nations to which the entire world looks for the preservation of peace and stability, which are essential to the prosperity and happiness of all mankind."

The task was one of "appalling magnitude," said Harvey, and the adjustment of the relationship between the two great nations was a "vital world problem."

The great majority in Congress presented conclusive evidence of unmistakable gratification in the United States, and the unanimity manifested in Great Britain afforded "eloquent testimony to the sense of relief, even joy."

"The United Kingdom," said the Ambassador, "continues to rest on the rock of financial integrity and national honor."

"Great Britain was never asked to guarantee, and never did guarantee, the payment of a single dollar loan by the United States for the use of any country other than Great Britain herself, and that she remains to this day the subject of guarantees."

The United States, according to the Ambassador, voluntarily gave a pledge that Great Britain should not be held to account for any portion of the supplies delivered to her representatives for transportation to or to be used by another ally.

"In point of fact," he continued, "a very considerable percentage of the debt of Great Britain to the United States was incurred in the purchase of food and clothing for people living in England."

Harvey pointed out that the first advance made by the United States to any ally was hundreds of millions of dollars to Great Britain to enable her to discharge a pressing obligation and maintain her waning credit, and also that the United States had released to Great Britain a huge amount of the highest class bonds and shares as security.

"The obligation thus discharged," added Harvey, "constitutes part of the debt which is now funded, and the British Government still owes the securities. Surely asking for the repayment of such a loan could not rightly be regarded as an act of a shabby demanding his pound of flesh."

U. S. Obligated to Borrow.

The Ambassador told his hearers that the United States had been obliged to borrow $4,000,000,000 because it had loaned $50,000,000 to England and also that the United States had loaned to the other allies $6,000,000,000, on which it had received no interest, while still paying at the rate of 4½ per cent—over $25,000,000 yearly—as well as taxing its own people.

He pointed out the fact that the cost of the great war in money to the United States and Great Britain was about the same, remarking: "The human mind cannot comprehend a sum so colossal, but no body here will deny that the outcome was worth $20,000,000,000, and probably—God pity us—all—the lives."

Another misapprehension regarding the United States he wished to remove, and he said that he had singled out and named Great Britain. "We did neither one nor the other. The expiration of the three years during which we had agreed to bear the entire burden was approaching, and the same day our Government gave notice to all debtors to that effect, which was merely the customary preliminary payment or the negotiation of terms."

Britain Alone Responded.

One of two appeared and talked about the weather. Great Britain arrived and talked business. The outcome was the completed settlement of this greatest financial transaction in less than a month.

The $20,000,000,000 was not an easy task, the Ambassador admitted, but it had been done.

"When the time came to settle with the enemy," continued the Ambassador, "the United States would not be less than $10,000,000,000 when their pockets had been thoroughly searched. Whereupon we waived our claim in the allies' favor—certainly a well-meaning act at the time, even though thus far the search has been less productive than anticipated."

While not wishing to defend or seek credit for the part the United States played in the war, the Ambassador said that "our contribution was undoubtedly helpful. It may, indeed, in the generous words of your Premier, have been decisive."

He thought that the 90 per cent of the $20,000,000,000 that had been paid to the United States by the British Government, which he said was "undoubtedly helpful," was "undoubtedly helpful."

He thought that the 90 per cent of the $20,000,000,000 that had been paid to the United States by the British Government, which he said was "undoubtedly helpful," was "undoubtedly helpful."

He assured his hearers that the United States had no intention of "ruining the credit of other countries by canceling its debts. After detailing the amounts and terms of payment of the British debt, he said: "In the words of Secretary Mellon, 'since we are fair, and might even be considered generous,' the Ambassador paid tribute to Chancellor Baldwin and the friendship of the two great nations to which the entire world looks for the preservation of peace and stability, which are essential to the prosperity and happiness of all mankind."

The great majority in Congress presented conclusive evidence of unmistakable gratification in the United States, and the unanimity manifested in Great Britain afforded "eloquent testimony to the sense of relief, even joy."

NOT SUBSTANTIATEDTwo Officials Were Accused of Trying to Divert Passenger Traffic From British to U. S. Ships.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 1.—The controversy arising from the cancellation by the British Government last July of the exequaturs of American consular officers at Newcastle-on-Tyne has been closed by orders issued by the United States Government that the consulate there shall not be reopened.

Ambassador Harvey, in London, advised the State Department yesterday that in a note handed Lord Curzon, British Foreign Minister, he had conveyed this decision of his Government in the case growing out of the action taken by the British Government against Consul Slater and Vice Consul Brooks on the ground that they had discriminated against British vessels. The American note, following an exchange of several others on the controversy, reiterated that a thorough investigation had produced convincing evidence that the charges preferred could not be substantiated. The consulate would not be reopened, it said.

United States' Position.

The American Government took the position that the two officials should be publicly exonerated by the British Government, and that they were attempting to divert passenger traffic from British to American ships. It declined to accept a conditional offer of the British Government to drop the charges as meeting this position.

The British Government refused to change its original position.

The text of the note, as made public at the State Department, follows: "On behalf of my Government, I have the honor to inform your lordship of the receipt of your lordship's note of Dec. 27, 1922, in which you state the decision of the British Government with regard to the cancellation of the exequaturs of Mr. Slater and Mr. Brooks, Consul and Vice Consul at Newcastle-on-Tyne."

In the circumstances, I am instructed to inform your lordship that orders have been issued in order to reopen the consulate and to dispose of the lease of the consular premises.

"Charges Not Substantiated."

"May I call once more to your attention the fact that a thorough investigation of which the British Government has been fully informed was made of this case by officers of my Government, and that the evidence secured convinced my Government that the charges preferred cannot be substantiated."

"My Government desires me, furthermore, once again, to point out that although it has never questioned the right of the British Government to cancel the exequaturs of an American Consul on the ground that he is persona non grata, it considers that when specific charges are advanced it is compelled to make the most thorough investigation in order to clear or disprove the alleged offenders. My Government must, moreover, call in question the accuracy of the parallel which your lordship used in the cancellation in 1924 of the Government of the United States of the exequaturs of the British Consuls at New York, Philadelphia and Cincinnati. The evidence against the Consul was developed in judicial proceedings, which showed them to be guilty of violating the laws and the sovereign rights of the United States."

Closing of Consulate to Result in Inconvenience to Britishers.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 1.—At the State Department today it was said that the closing of the American Consulate at Newcastle-on-Tyne would result in much greater inconvenience to Britishers than to Americans. In general the effect is to transfer all the routine activities of the office to the consulate at Hull.

Because of this, the British Government has been urged to keep the consulate open. "The adverse effect of the closing on American interests is declared by the State Department to be negligible."

NEUN SUPPORTERS CONFIDENT
HE WILL CARRY ALL BUT SIX
WARDS IN PRIMARY MARCH 916 of 28 Members of G. O. P. City Central Committee Now Backing Him for Nomination for Presidency of Board of Aldermen.

Sixteen of the 28 members of the Republican City Central Committee are now supporting Walter J. G. Neun, chairman of the committee, for nomination as candidate for the presidency of the Board of Aldermen, and the number is expected to be increased to 22 before the primary, March 9, polling favorable to Neun said today.

Neun's supporters are confident he will carry all wards in the primary excepting six. They now figure that Edward E. Kuhn, First Ward Alderman, will carry the First, Sixth and Nineteenth wards and that Oliver T. Remmers, attorney for the householder-Busch, Inc., will carry his own ward the Twelfth, and probably two others on the South Side.

Kuhn is expected to carry the First Ward because he lives there and the Sixth and Nineteenth because Robert E. (Bobbie) Moore and Nat Goldstein, respectively, are the committeemen, and are known to be for Kuhn, the Neun contingent claims.

They declare that the only strength Remmers will show in the primary is that obtained through the backing of City Collector Edmund Koehn and Neun's friends say that Koehn will not be able to deliver more than three wards.

The outline of the situation furnished by the Neun followers is emphatically condemned by politicians backing either Kuhn or Remmers. But while they vociferously declare that their candidate has a splendid chance for the nomination, they adhere closely to generalities and none would make any definite prediction of how the committeemen would line up.

One of the Kuhn supporters, when told of reports that only Goldstein and Moore were for Kuhn, appeared generally taken aback, and made a joke. After several repetitions of request for definite information which might disprove those reports, he finally said: "I'll tell you, where you think 'Tub' Becker will be, and Welpott?" He referred to Peter Anderson Jr., First Ward committeeman; Frank M. Slater, Seventeenth Ward committeeman; Louis Becker, Eighth Ward committeeman, and William H. Welpott, Twenty-third Ward committeeman.

Neun supporters are claiming that each of those committeemen will be for Neun before the primary arrives. Importance of support of the committeemen in the primary arises from the fact that the public generally takes but comparatively little interest in a municipal primary and most of the voting is done by those connected with the ward organizations, or through their efforts.

Speech of "Bobbie" Moore.

It was learned today that a speech by "Bobbie" Moore during a special meeting of the Republican City Committee last Saturday afternoon was largely responsible for the failure of many of the committeemen to line up behind Kuhn, who was then being talked of as a possible candidate.

HOUSE PASSES FARM CREDITS
BILL BY VOTE OF 305 TO 36Measure Proposes Establishing Two Banking Systems for Farm Agricultural Needs.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 1.—The farm credits bill, proposing to establish two new banking systems, one Government and the other private, to meet the financial needs of the agricultural industry, was passed today by the House. It now goes to conference.

The new Federal banking system proposed would consist of 12 intermediate credit banks in the same cities as the Federal farm loan banks and with a capital of $5,000,000 each. They would be authorized to issue tax-free debentures up to a total of $600,000,000, or nearly twice the amount which the War Finance Corporation has been called upon to advance to the agricultural industry.

Private credit corporations authorized by the bill would have a capital of not less than $250,000 each and their number would be unlimited. It is these organizations that will make advances to producers of livestock on long-term paper. There also would be private redemptory corporations having a capital stock of not less than $1,000,000 each. Under an amendment adopted by the House the War Finance Corporation would continue to function until next Jan. 31.

Rail Rate Control Motion Defeated.

By the Associated Press.
JEFFERSON CITY, March 1.—Senator McCawley's resolution asking the Representatives from Missouri in Congress to support the submission of an amendment to the Federal Constitution guaranteeing to States the right to control intrastate railroad rates, was defeated in the Senate today. The vote was 13 for and 15 against the resolution.

COMMITTEE MEETS TO GET REPORT ON
BOND ISSUE WORKProgram of Board of Public Service, Outlining $10-
187,500 Projects for First
Year Presented.CITY DEPARTMENTS
OFFERTY SUGGESTIONSComptroller and City Counselor Give Advice as to Steps Necessary to Get Improvements Under Way.

The Citizens Supervisory Committee on Bond Issue Expenditures met this afternoon at the city hall to receive a report from the Board of Public Service on $10,187,500 in work recommended for inclusion in the first year of construction, and he advised by the Comptroller and City Counselor on financial and legal action to be taken in getting the public improvement program under way.

The report by the Board of Public Service, drafted yesterday, gives the supervisory committee definite information on which to base plans for starting the work. Harry Scullin, vice chairman, said today: "The complete program of $10,187,500, which is in the bond issue election Feb. 9, is to be spread over 10 years."

No action has been taken by the committee in previous meetings to designate the first project to be made by departments on the plans ready or being prepared, and the work considered most urgently needed.

In addition to the board report, the directors of the welfare, public utilities and streets and sewers departments expected to place letters before the committee today outlining in more detail the improvements affecting those departments.

Ordinance Required.

One of the chief obstacles to an immediate start that has been pointed out to the committee is the time required for passage of ordinances, first to authorize the sale of the initial bonds of bonds to be issued, and then ordinances authorizing appropriations and construction. No ordinance appropriating money from the bond issue can be passed until bonds have been sold and the money placed in the treasury. This is provided by charter. It has been estimated three to four months would be required for the first bonds could be sold.

The committee invited Comptroller Nolte to attend the meeting today and advise the committee on these financial questions.

City Counselor Haid has prepared a report showing 38 suits for condemnation of property for city uses are pending in the Circuit Court, of which 20 are street-widening projects provided under the bond issue. The condemnation section of the department is overburdened with such suits, Haid said, and an ordinance has been introduced in the Board of Aldermen authorizing employment of four special attorneys for this work. Members of the Supervisory Committee have expressed the view that the department should have a larger force, and necessary appropriations, to carry on the work.

A recommendation for an appropriation of $50,000 for the legal department as one special attorney is to be started soon, is included in the Board of Public Service report.

Subcommittees Planned.

The Supervisory Committee, comprising 17 members, has been functioning as one special committee on all bond matters thus far, but subcommittees on the improvements are to be formed. A proposal was made in a recent meeting that a committee be named for each of the five departments within the Board of Public Service, which has control over construction of public works. Such committees would deal with the department heads on the construction of public works.

Ordinances will have to be passed by the Board of Aldermen, and the necessary appropriations. The course of such a measure is as follows: The bill will be prepared within a department of the Board of Citizens Supervisory Committee for approval. It then will go to the Board of Public Service for approval in the Board of Aldermen. After passage of the bill by the Board of Aldermen, it will be referred to an ad hoc committee for hearing and reported out by that committee for passage. It must receive the approval of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment before being brought up for passage by the Board of Aldermen. After passage of the bill goes to the Mayor for approval, becoming effective 30 days after he signs it, except on an emergency bill, which becomes effective on signature.

Such bills pass through the hands of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment.

Denies Authorship of Bill.

By the Associated Press.
JEFFERSON CITY, March 1.—Senator Frank Warner of St. Louis is angry, for some one put his name on a bill introduced in the Senate, as co-author. Warner has not introduced a bill. He prepared a resolution today demanding that the Senate destroy the 500 printed copies of the bill with his name on it. This bill, to compel all persons in St. Louis who sell hay, coal or other like commodities to have their weights at the public scales was introduced several days ago. Warner heard of this yesterday when three or four of his constituents called up to berate him for putting his name on a measure. He denied the charge.

DIRIGIBLE AIRSHIP SERVICE
DEFINITELY ASSURED BETWEEN
CHICAGO AND NEW YORK CITYMarshall Field, William Wrigley, Franklin D.
Roosevelt and Other Capitalists in Company
That Will Use Experienced German Crews.

From the Chicago Tribune.
NEW YORK, March 1.—Marshall Field and William Wrigley of Chicago, Franklin D. Roosevelt, former president of the United States, Owen D. Young, president of the General Electric Co., and other leading business men of the United States, are members of a corporation which has definitely decided to start a dirigible air service between New York and Chicago according to former Assistant Secretary of War Benedict Crowell, one of the directors of the corporation.

The decision to establish an air service patterned after the Zeppelin lines formerly operated with great success in Germany, was practically reached about a year ago, according to Crowell. The decision to go ahead with the New York-Chicago dirigible line was only decided recently.

Plans Are Outlined.

Crowell made only a slight reference to the plans for a Zeppelin line to Chicago Saturday night at a dinner of the construction division, an organization of men who built cantonments during the war. Later he supplemented what he had said about the line of dirigibles.

He said that the organization which would undertake the development of night air service by dirigible between New York City and Chicago was incorporated in Delaware under the name of the American Investigation Corporation. That organization's function was to look into the feasibility of the project.

Now that it has been decided to undertake the project, Crowell said the backers of the project will form another corporation, the General Air Service, which will be the operating corporation. Young of the General Electric Co. is the head of the American Investigation Corporation.

Would Surpass Zeppelins.

Crowell said investigation had convinced his backers that the United States could go ahead with the development of a line far surpassing the famous Zeppelin service, operated with marked success in Germany before the war.

The advantage that the Americans will possess in the development of the dirigible lies in the monopoly that America has in helium, a non-explosive gas which is almost as light as hydrogen, an explosive gas which has made dirigible flying dangerous.

According to Crowell, German experts in the operation of dirigibles have been brought to this country to investigate the practicability of lighter-than-air flying between New York and Chicago. They spent months looking into air conditions. Their investigation covered the meteorological records of the eastern half of the United States for the past 15 years.

Report Plan Feasible.

"And at the end of their investigation," Crowell explained, "they declared that the operation of dirigibles between New York and Chicago would be far simpler than in Germany."

One of the most striking disclosures made by Crowell was that German flyers would be engaged by the projected operating corporation to man the dirigible. And the reason, he said:

"We will use German crews to start because they are the only ones who know how to operate dirigibles."

portion only when they involve appropriations.

This bill is varied on bills authorizing the sale of bonds. Such measures originate within the Board of Estimate and Apportionment and are sent by it to the Board of Aldermen for passage. The bill does not come back to the Board of Estimate for further consideration unless it is amended in its course through the Board of Aldermen.

HOUSE ENGROSSES CHILD LABOR
AND JANITORS' SALARY BILLSAction Taken Also on Plan to Increase Pay of Siderer's Warrant Clerk to $3,000.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, March 1.—A bill to prohibit the employment of children under 16 years of age for more than eight hours in one day in the larger cities of the State and others to increase the salaries of 16 janitors employed at the courthouse and municipal courts building, and that of the circuit clerk in the Circuit Attorney's office in St. Louis, were engrossed by the House yesterday.

The child labor bill, by Miss Sarah Turner of Kansas, is an amendment to the present child labor law which already prohibits the employment of children under 16 years old, for more than 48 hours in any week or before 7 a. m. or after 7 p. m.

The janitors are increased, under a bill by Representative Manning, from $900 to $1,080 a year, while the salary of W. L. Giesler, warrant clerk to the Circuit Attorney, is increased from $2,400 to $3,000 a year. This bill caused a loud disturbance in the St. Louis delegation, the bill originally having provided for $4,000 a year. Representative Smith of St. Louis obtained adoption of an amendment cutting it to $3,000 over the protest of Representative Straub of St. Louis.

SHORTAGE OF INDUSTRIAL
LABOR IN STATE FORECASTEmployment Situation in Missouri Called "Highly Satisfactory" by State Labor Department.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, March 1.—The industrial employment situation in Missouri is pronounced "highly satisfactory" in a statement issued yesterday by the Department of Labor.

"Present indications are," the statement says, "that in the near future a shortage of labor will be existing. In some lines of industry this shortage already is becoming manifest. Building activities throughout the State continue to increase their volume of employment, and there is a shortage of craftsmen in some building lines."

League Circles See No
Fault in Court Plan

View in Geneva U. S. Would Be on Equality With Other Members.

By the Associated Press.
GENEVA, March 1.—President Harding's proposal that the United States have representation in the Court of International Justice is regarded in League of Nations circles here as entirely reasonable and the conditions imposed as to membership such as not to create any difficulty, for they would simply place the United States on equality with the other members of the court.

It was pointed out today that the desire of the League of Nations for the United States to join the court was shown at the time of its creation by the special provision under which the United States, the Kingdom of Hejaz and Ecuador could become members by invitation.

League officials have received no communication from the United States regarding the matter. They regard the problem as purely an American one for determination by the American Government alone. The United States, it was said, would of course be on the same basis as the other great Powers in the court.

Twenty smaller countries have accepted as obligatory the jurisdiction of the court's obligatory jurisdiction has been greatly enlarged by provisions in many treaties for reference of disputes to the court, as in the Lausanne proposal to have the court settle the Anatolian railroad question.

New York Lawyers' Committee Induces Harding's Plan.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, March 1.—The committee on international law of the Association of the bar of the City of New York, headed by Elihu Root, has recommended to the association adoption of a resolution setting forth that the United States should send one of its members to the permanent Court of International Justice and endorsing President Harding's recent message to the Senate.

The resolution reads: "The committee of the bar of the City of New York joins in what it believes to be the wise judgment of the American people that the United States ought to become one of the supporters of the permanent Court of International Justice at The Hague, and that our Government should therefore adhere to the protocol establishing the court in the manner set forth by the President in his message to the Senate of Feb. 24, 1922."

Refuses Day Made Daughters Aid.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 1.—Rufus S. Day, son of former Associate Justice William D. Day, of the Supreme Court, was today refused a special assistant to Attorney-General Daugherty. He has been practicing law in this city. He will be assigned to the office of Special General Beck.

The Conning Tower

Abroad With Our College Men.
(Yale Club of Capri, It.)

The annual meeting of the Yale Club of Capri (Italy), which was held this year (1922) on Dec. 14 in order to enable the member to get the result play by play of the Yale-Harvard football game, took place at the traditional Morgano's Cafe, where two or three chairs and an open door had been provided by the generous management. Donald O. Stewart, 1916, retiring president of the club, was tendered a standing ovation as he took his seat, from which he arose at intervals to respond to personal greetings with affectionate waves of his hand and the old smile which has apparently lost none of its vigor with years.

The treasurer, D. Stewart, '16, reported a slight deficit for the fiscal year 1922, but added that a vigorous campaign was being prosecuted and that, as soon as money could be obtained to pay the printer, new bills would be sent out to every member. Mr. Stewart then resigned. Mr. Stewart's resignation was not accepted.

In introducing the chief speaker of the evening, Mr. D. Ogden Stewart, of New York, the toastmaster, was particularly happy in his choice of well-chosen compliments, although, as he so aptly put it, "Don" Stewart "needed no introduction to this audience."

Mr. Stewart in the course of his address touched on the work of the Yale University Press, the Alumni Fund, Yale-In-China, and urged a closer co-operation between Yale and New Haven, adding that the opportunities were never better for the college man in politics. He spoke feelingly of the great work done by Yale men in the past in all branches of public life. In closing, he said, in part:

"But I see you are getting restless. I know what you want to hear. You want to hear about the team. (A voice: 'Yes, yes.')"

"Well, let me state right here, men—let me state right here—the Yale football team which treated me onto the field on the afternoon of Nov. 25 is going to WIN."

This remark was greeted with cheers and the singing of songs which occupied the time pleasantly until the arrival of the mail bag when the toastmaster arose and read aloud the account of the game just as it was played.

The meeting was closed by the singing of "Bright College Years" and the dirty little official manager of Morgano's.

Immediately after an overflow meeting was held in an adjoining cafe for the purpose of electing officers for the coming year, with the following results:

For 0.
Against 0.
Single votes were also recorded for the following:

For abolishing compulsory chapel; for issuing local sewer and water bonds as of April 30, 1923, to mature serially in 10 years; for abolishing fraternities; for adding one more fraternity; for unanimously accepting the recent gift of Mr. Harkness of a dormitory; for extending the privileges of the club to ladies and wives of members on Christmas day and New Year's.

Respectfully submitted,
DONALD OGDEN STEWART, 1916.

Adios of Woman Sent From Japan. Special to Post-Dispatch.

COLUMBIA, Mo., March 1.—A letter from the ashes of Miss Edith Parker, formerly of this city, but now in Japan, who died at Kobe, Jan. 13, arrived here yesterday. Her funeral services were conducted at the First Christian Church.

It Seems to Me

NEW YORK.—It is small wonder that fiction writers revolt from naturalism. The war lies like a mountain range across the path of the realist. Every novelist who wants to tell a tale of our own times comes slapbang, sooner or later, against the fact that something momentous happened almost all over the world between 1914 and 1918. Very possibly the author has no desire to deal with the war, but there it is. If the hero of the book happens to live in that time something must row of dots in the air, but to send his major characters into the trenches, keep them home with their mums or make them patients and put them in jail. To the already cumbersome technique of the modern novel has been added one more rule, which may be called "The Obligatory Chapter."

Prohibition raises almost as great a wall across the surface of life. We were getting along well with a novel the other night until we began to check up on the gurning scene in the barroom. Then we discovered to our horror that according to the age of the hero the drinking scene would have occurred late in the autumn of 1920.

Of course, we needed no fictional license in order to tell the hero to drink, but for the purposes of the plot it had to be real beer served in glasses over the bar without let or hindrance. Consequently we were forced to begin the story all over again and make the hero five years younger.

That done, we ran into another difficulty. The youth of the hero, who happens to be a Yale man, is somewhat brightened by the fact that his day at New Haven was before the period of the young Yale poet movement. No recognition came to him from his mates because of his Yale football team, which were winning nothing at all. What we want is a character young enough to attend college in the days of Yale's athletic supremacy. We just can't do it and remain a realist.

Naturally, we are tempted to turn the whole thing over into Burlesk or one of the mythical kingdoms where dates do not distress and the local color is not that of your piece. Only it isn't that kind of a story.

Still, one day we shall get across the top of the mountains into the magic land. We want to do a variation of the Faust legend. Our Faust will sell his soul to the devil for the sake of wealth and wicked joys and he will have no end of fun. Then comes the time of payment. He must die.

The devil appears at the appointed spot and remarks, "As a matter of fact you made a much better bargain than you imagined. You haven't got a soul and you never had one. All that wealth and wickedness you acquired is just so much velvet. You were a shrewd and courageous young man. I wish you good-evening, and I know that you will have long and peaceful slumber."

We shall also want to have a Princess who purposely goes out and gets abducted by an ogre. When rescued she explains that she did it for the sake of the knowledge and experience. She feels that she is more of a woman from having been through the fearful ordeal.

Sometimes we envy people with style, and again we don't. After all, it is a fearful responsibility. We know writers, some of them still alive, who are absolutely ensnared by their style. They cannot possibly begin any story without first making sure that it will turn out to be a theme consonant with their manner.

Some of these poor fellows are perpetual exiles from all scenes which are close and familiar. They simply can't begin to write without the aid of glittering white walls, sapphire seas, Spanish dancers and the distant tinkle of cathedral bells.

But then, of course, the great stylist is a man who wears his manner as easily as with a little self-consciousness as if it were a pair of trousers. He just knows that it is there. He is never under any necessity of hitching it up or making sure that he has not forgotten it.

We have often heard the charge that this is a materialistic nation, but it is an English correspondent of the Times who cables regarding the tomb of Tutankhamen: "Today has brought to light a new wealth of objects of artistic, historical and even intrinsic value."

"What right have you to say that the performances of the Moscow Art Theater are superb?" writes Indignant American Actor. "You don't know any Russian."

But we do. We can both say and understand the Russian for "Yes." "That's a lie." "Give me a cigarette." "You little fool!" and "How beautiful you are!" One might go in comfort from Moscow to Odessa as much as that.

VISITING IN CALIFORNIA

—Kandler Photographs.
MISS MARIE MALONEY.

A wedding announcement which has interested society here is that of Miss Hebe Frances Leggat, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Denton Leggat of Butte, Mont., and Alexander Scott Evans of Great Falls, Mont. The ceremony was performed in the Episcopal Church at Butte, Feb. 20, and was followed by a dinner for 20 guests at the Silver Bow Club. Mr. and Mrs. Warden will make their home in Great Falls after their honeymoon trip.

The bride is a niece of Mrs. Jesse Carleton of 5347 Westminister place, and a granddaughter of Mrs. R. S. Leggat. She was educated at Monticello Seminary and spent much of her girlhood with Mrs. Carleton and Mrs. Leggat. She has been their guest all winter, and participated in many gaieties of the younger social set, departing for her home only a few days before the wedding.

Mr. Warden is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver E. Warden of Great Falls. He is a graduate of Dartmouth College, and editor of a daily newspaper in Great Falls.

Persons socially active during the Lenten period have resolved themselves to giving small informal luncheons, inviting a few friends in for dinner, or perhaps entertaining one's bridge club. One of these clubs which has continued its meetings through Lent will meet this afternoon with Mrs. Leonard MacCarthy of Forest Park boulevard.

The members are Miss Marie Maloney, Mrs. John M. Grant Jr., Mrs. Margaret Locke Good, Miss Louise Lake, Mrs. Alfred Brown, Mrs. Houghton Hedgcock, Mrs. Brooks Thompson, Miss Eleanor Meyer, Miss Margaret Perry, Miss Frances Hays, Mrs. Jerome Kircher and the hostess. Because of the absence of several members, a number of friends and all guests have been invited for the afternoon, including Mrs. Richard S. Hawes Jr. and Mrs. William J. Phelan.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius S. Birge, of 5076 Westminister place, are entertaining their daughter, Mrs. Cortland Currier, and the latter's two children, from Charleston, W. Va.

Mrs. Francis G. Eaton of 80 Vandeventer place has gone to California, to visit her son, George Eaton, a student at Harvard University. Mr. Eaton recently returned from a visit to his son.

Rear Admiral and Mrs. William S. Sims of Newport, R. I., will depart tomorrow for their home after a visit to Mrs. Sims's sister, Mrs. John E. Shepley, and Mr. Shepley, 123 Portland place. Later in the spring Admiral Sims and his wife will go to California for a visit.

Miss Virginia Price, daughter of T. E. Price of 26 North King's highway, has as her guest Miss Isabel Bevans of Short Hills, N. J. The visitor will remain about a month, and informal parties are being given for her. Mrs. Willard Wall of Melbourne Hotel will give one of several theater parties in her honor, and on Saturday, March 10, Miss Peggy Parie will entertain at bridge at her home, 378 North Taylor avenue, for Miss Bevans. Miss Price will give a bridge party for her guest Saturday, March 17.

Mrs. Hudson E. Bridge of 23 Westmoreland place entertained a few friends at luncheon today in honor of her daughter, Mrs. Theodore Weld Sterling, who is visiting her mother and father. Mrs. Sterling expects to remain in St. Louis until March 15, when Mr. and Mrs. Bridge will go to Panama for a few weeks.

Yesterday Mrs. Goodman King gave an informal luncheon for Mrs. Sterling at her home at Vandeventer place.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip S. Medart of 103 Aberdeen place have left St. Louis for a two weeks' sojourn at Hot Springs, Ark.

Word has been received in St. Louis of the safe arrival of a party of St. Louisans at the Island of Man.

ACCOUNTING OF FRICK ESTATE

More Than $10,000,000 Already Distributed, Executor Reports.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., March 1.—The second accounting filed by the executor of the estate of Henry Clay Frick, financier and philanthropist, shows that more than $10,000,000 has been paid to his widow, Adelaide H. C. Frick; his son, Childs Frick, and other legatees, while $1,124,447.16 remains to be distributed. Since the first account was filed there has been an increase in the amount available for distribution, the estate having been enhanced over $6,000,000. This income from the estate since the trustees took charge amounted to $3,026,782.68.

No distribution has been made yet to the different universities, hospitals and charitable institutions provided for in the will.

BROWN RULES IN SPORT STYLES

Scotch Influence Also Apparent in Unusual Number of Plaids.
(Copyright, 1923.)

LONDON, March 1.—This will be a brown year in sports fashions for women. English creators of sport clothes who still set the standard, have decreed brown the ruling color in sporting and walking dresses. Shades from palest beige to deepest brown are shown.

The Scotch influence also is apparent in the unusual number of plaids and small checks for dresses. Some have fringe around the bottom. Red leather coats will be worn and metal tissue jumpers with rough woolen suits are shown. Combinations of red and white are another startling feature among spring and summer models just displayed.

AMERICAN HISTORY FOR CHILDREN

South Was Not Full of "Simon Legrees," for Planter Knew Little Work Could Be Obtained
From Lash-Crippled Slaves.

Underground Railway Is Established.

By HENDRIK VAN LOON,
Author of the "Story of Mankind."

In order to keep abreast of the times of which we are now writing, I am afraid it is going to be necessary to mention the question of slavery every few days, for that is the topic which was uppermost in every man's mind (unless he happened to live near hostile Indians, when the Red Peril filled his thoughts to the exclusion of all else).

If you have got your ideas of slavery from "Uncle Tom's Cabin" you will have a very one-sided idea of the lot of the average slave. It is true that there were many Simon Legrees in the South, but the average slaveholder was an efficient business man, who knew that he could get far more work out of a healthy, well-fed and happy slave, than out of a half-starved wretch, crippled by the lash, and with hatred in his heart. True, they were considered little better than animals, and whipping was considered the most efficient method of punishing them, but cases of extreme cruelty were rare. A man will whip a valuable horse, if he thinks it necessary, but he is careful not to injure the animal, for even if he is not restrained by feelings of mercy, he is not going to ruin a thousand dollars worth of property, unless he is absolutely blinded by rage.

So, on the whole, the slaves were well treated, but they were not taught to read or to write, were not allowed to meet together for any purpose unless a white man was present, and were not allowed to travel around without permission from their masters. All this was considered strictly necessary, if they were to be kept in bondage, for an enlightened people will arise of themselves and break their bonds.

The South had become convinced that slavery was a permanent institution. The blacks were there, there was no way of getting rid of them, and the only way to handle them was by keeping them in slavery.

Meanwhile in the North, there was the beginning of a violent anti-slavery movement. Slave holding was considered a grave sin, and a blot upon our country's honor. In 1833, the American Anti-Slavery Association was formed, and by 1840 there were 2000 local organizations of this society with a membership of nearly 200,000.

Much abolitionist literature began to be published by way of propaganda. There was the "Genius of Universal Emancipation," published by Benjamin Lundy, a New Jersey Quaker, and the "Liberator," published in Boston by William Lloyd Garrison.

Oberlin College, Ohio, became the center of the movement in the West, and negro students were admitted to its classes.

At the same time appeared the famous "underground railway" whereby abolitionists helped slaves to run away from their masters in the South, slipping them in disguise, by night marches, or hidden under loads of hay, from house to house of trusted persons, known as "agents" until they had reached the free state, or even the Canadian border. Yellow Springs, O., where Antioch College is located, was one of these underground way stations.

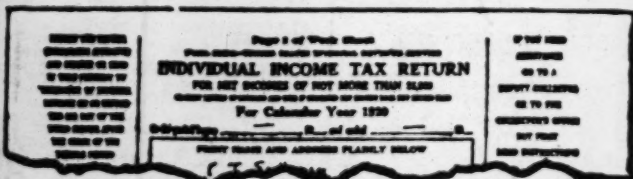

Such action on the part of the abolitionists infuriated the Southerners, and they saw in the "agents" of the "underground" not noble servants of humanity, as they considered themselves, but merely thieves, who were stealing their property.

Daily the feeling between North and South grew more bitter, and it was still 30 years before the great war which was to decide it all.

Readers who clip and preserve these articles will have a splendid collection of historical facts. Valuable for reference or for supplementing the study of history by children.

GOLUB REFUSES TO TRY TO IDENTIFY KILLING SUSPECTS

"What's the Use? I Can't Identify Anybody," Says Man With Mackler When He Was Slain.

Jack Golub, attorney in the Times Building, would not go to Police Headquarters today to see if he could identify members of the "Egan's Rats" gang as the assassins of Jacob H. Mackler, lawyer for the "Jelly Roll" Hogan gang, which is at war with the "rats." Golub was with Mackler when the latter was shot to death in his automobile at 12th and Howard streets the night of Feb. 21.

"What's the use?" protested Golub, when a detective called at his office. "I can't identify anybody, and I don't want to mix up in this thing."

William (Dinty) Colbeck, member of the Democratic City Committee, who has assumed leadership of the "rats" since Constable William T. Egan, former leader, was shot down by Hogan gangsters the night of Oct. 31, 1931, and five other men known to the police as belonging to the Egan following, had been rearrested earlier in the day when they appeared at the Municipal Courts Building to answer on their bonds of $10,000 each, given when they were arrested on suspicion, after the murder of Mackler.

The reason for the rearrest was that the police wanted Golub to see the suspects. Golub was not found

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES APPLY SULPHUR

Just the moment you apply Mentho Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. "This sulphur preparation, made into a pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief, even to fifty eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place."

Because of its germ destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness.

You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. You can get a little jar of Rowles Mentho Sulphur at any drug store.

Robinson, Danny O'Neil, Isidor Londe and Pasquale Graffigna. Another, Ray Renard, was already in the hands of the police, following his arrest on suspicion in another case.

$10,210 SUIT ON SURETY BOND

Failure of W. T. S. Barnes to Turn Over Securities as Trustee Alleged. Suit for $10,210 on the surety bond of W. T. S. Barnes, former trustee of the Home Loan and Investment Trust, with offices in the Victoria Building, was filed in Circuit Court today by the State Commissioner of Finance.

It is alleged that Barnes resigned on March 23, 1932, and six months later it was discovered that securities in the sum sued for, entrusted to him, had not been turned over to the other trustees. Barnes has left the city for Oklahoma and later was known to be in Denver.

Man and Wife Die Same Day. August Ziegler, 78 years old, of Wood River, Ill., died yesterday eight hours after the death of his wife, who was 75 years old. Death in each case was due to grip. Ziegler died without knowing of his wife's death and she was not informed of his death.

Can influenza be prevented?

Science says it can. By keeping fit and by guarding one's throat, the germ of influenza which first settles in the throat is made harmless. Formamint tablets offer trustworthy protection because, as science has proven, they actually destroy germ growth in the mouth and throat.

The written testimony of over 10,000 physicians further assures you that they are safe, pleasant-tasting and speedily efficient in all mouth and throat troubles. All druggists.

Abeken Trying to Close Intercity
Football Series

Pullmans Sought for Contest
Here With Municipal Soccer
Champions.

SEMIFINALS OPEN SUNDAY
Survivors in Elimination Round
Will Compete in Double-Header.

Rodolfo H. Abeken, Superintendent of Recreation, left last night for Chicago to arrange an intercity series with the Pullman soccer team. If his plans are successful local fans will see the local municipal soccer champion team in competition with the strong Pullmans late in March. It is also planned to give the champions a trip to the Windy City, if that can be arranged.

From Chicago Abeken will go to Milwaukee to attend the Convention of Recreation Superintendents of the Middle West, where Minneapolis, St. Paul, Detroit, Omaha, Chicago and Milwaukee will be represented. The convention on recreation and athletic conditions under the local system.

It is planned to organize a national municipal athletic association for the purpose of conducting intercity contests in baseball and soccer. Abeken stated yesterday that in addition to the association only such organizations as are willing to conform to eligibility conditions required in the city would be admitted.

For several years the Municipal Athletic Association has been conducting intercity series with Memphis and Omaha in baseball and soccer. But after last year's baseball fiasco, when the Memphis team came to this city with an amateur team loaded with minor league players, playing under assumed names, connection with that city has been severed.

In commenting on the Memphis situation Abeken stated that he considered it unfair to ask the local champions, who complied with the registration rules of the association, to compete against a ringer team.

Municipal Semifinals Sunday.
The semifinal round of the championship series of the Municipal Soccer League will be played next Sunday afternoon at Fairground No. 2 grounds. Two games will be played: with the Ben Miller and Henne teams playing the first game and the St. Matthew and Baller teams meeting in the second. The first game is scheduled to start at 1:30 p. m. and will be played to a finish. In the event of a tie at the end of the regular 90 minutes of play the teams will play one extra 15-minute period. Should no decision be reached at the end of the extra period the managers have agreed to play the game to a conclusion on some other field at Fairground in order to allow the second game to start.

The St. Matthew team, which won the championship in No. 4 Fairground group, has been a member of the Municipal Soccer League in nine of 10 seasons of the league's existence. In eight of those years they have won the championship of their group. The St. Matthews defeated the Schumacher team last Sunday by a 3-to-2 score.

The Ben Miller team won the championship of Fairground No. 2 group after a hot battle with the St. Leo and Prendergast teams, finishing a single point ahead of the three-time champion St. Leo. The Millers won their way to the second round of the elimination by defeating the St. Malashy team, 1 to 0, last Sunday.

The Henne team clinched the championship of the Sherman Park group on last Sunday, when they defeated the St. Marks team, 1 to 0. Last year the Henne team was the runner-up in the championship games, losing to the St. Leo team.

The Park Department has included the playing ground during the past week and the association will charge 15 cents admission.

Candidates for Lavan's Job Make Good Impression in Cards' Workout

Holm, Bell and Makin, Especially the First Named, Please Team Regulars by Smart Fielding and Hitting—Hornsbys Shows Rookies How to Correct Batting Faults.

By Herman Wecke,
Of the Post-Dispatch Sports Staff.

BRADENTOWN, Fla., March 1.—Although it is still early to boast about the doings of our ballplayers in Camp Cardinal, there is one athlete who has made a favorable impression. This man is Roscoe Holm, the former Iowa University star, who will strive to fill the shortstop berth for the Rickenbackers.

Such veterans of the national pastime as Joe Sugden, coach of the Cardinal pitchers, and Hunter Hill, manager of the Houston club, who is in St. Louis, are of the opinion that Holm is a mighty sweet ball-player around that shortstop position. He is a regular ball hawk. "That boy is a mighty sweet ball-player around that shortstop position. He is a regular ball hawk."

And there appears a great deal of truth in the assertion. Nothing seemed too hot for the newcomer to handle during the fielding practice yesterday. He can go to his arm and secure a ball from any position. He is a well put athlete, who looks as though he would be able to stand the wear and tear of a long major league season. In fact, he is on a par with Jimmy Johnston of the Brooklyn Dodgers. He stands well at the plate and meets a ball squarely.

Too Early to Pass Judgment.
Of course, this is no time to pass on his swatting ability, as the hurlers have not started to cut loose. If this athlete comes through as expected by the veterans in camp, and Johnny Lavan fails to turn a "comeback," then some of Branch Rickey's worries will be over.

While Holm is drawing the praises of the veterans, there is another youth practicing here who has shown well in the same position. He is Lester Bell, who is the property of the Syracuse team, the Cardinals' Eastern "farm." It may be that after Rickey takes a look at the athlete he will take Bell over to the Knott-holders. Bell has shown equally as well as Holm in fielding, but not batted as well.

Makin Another Prospect.
And then there is Hal Makin. He has not done anything sensational to date, but he may come through before long. Howard Freigau has been doing most of his practicing at other positions on the infield.

There seems to be an idea in the camp that Ray Blades is really an infielder. There is this much about it: Rickey is getting plenty of work. From start to almost the finish of the two infield practices Blades is stationed at third base. Probably it is the intention of the management of the club to use him at that place in early battles.

Yesterday Hornsbys was hitting them to the infield and was burning them down to third. But nothing seemed too difficult for the St. Louis boy.

Red Leary, a young right-hand pitcher, will be unable to practice for a few days, as the result of being hit on the shin by a batted ball, while hurling to the batters in the cages.
Another athlete narrowly escaped. He was Joe Schultz, the veteran outfielder. Schultz was rounding the bases after batting and stopped a line drive with the top of his head. A bit lower and the rap might have resulted in a serious injury. As it was, Schultz rubbed his head a bit and went right on about his business.

Hornsbys Coaches Youngsters.
Hornsbys spent much of his time yesterday correcting batting faults in two young members of the club, Blades and Harry McCurdy.

Rickey at Bradentown.
Manager Branch Rickey joined the St. Louis Cardinals here today and will advise Capt. Burt Shotton on the conduct of the training camp. Rickey, just out of a St. Louis hospital where he was operated on for appendicitis, was accompanied by Dr. John F. Hyland, his physician. President Sam Breadon of the Cardinals is expected to arrive here Saturday.

Bob Harmon, Former Cardinal, Receives Release from Pirates.
By the Associated Press.
PITTSBURGH, March 1.—Robert Harmon, veteran big league pitcher, has been released unconditionally by the Pittsburgh Nationals. It was officially announced here. Harmon retired from the game several years ago to engage in the oil business in Louisiana. He had been carried on the Pirates' list, but recently was asked for his unconditional release, stating that he wished to sever all connection with baseball.

Rheumatism Conquered
by Power of Radium
When Taken in Simple Harmless Form—ARIUM—Reduces Inflammation and Brings Amazingly Quick Results After Other Methods Prove Worse Than Useless—Now Recommended by Leading Physicians in Most Stubborn Cases
$5,000.00 Reward if They Fail
(Read Guarantee Below)

Men and women who for years have been vainly trying to relieve the torturing pains of rheumatism, aching, swollen joints and the sharp, knife-like jabs of neuritis by rubbing in liniments and salves which usually only irritate the surface of the skin, are amazed at the almost miraculous benefits obtained from the magic-like powers of genuine radium prepared in the simple, harmless tablet form known as ARIUM.

In the light of recent discoveries, any doctor now will tell you that the terrible pain and swelling of rheumatism is really caused by the salts of the body crystallizing and hardening on the nerve fibres. Until these salts are removed you cannot hope for any lasting relief. The marvelous element in ARIUM is probably the only substance known which acts in a positive manner directly on the cause of the rheumatism. By dissolving these accumulated salts they are carried through the blood stream to your body absolutely free from all side effects and distress.

Many men who are looking into the future with despair, knowing that the awful agony of rheumatism is slowly but surely making them physically unfit to support their families, are comforted by the fact that the terrible pain is aging them before their time—have through the remarkable radium forces in ARIUM been brought back to splendid bodily activity, renewed energy, and youthful vitality.

Bancroft Says He Is Not a Holdout

Is Still in Sioux City, However, and Admits Contract Is Unsatisfactory.

SIoux CITY, La., March 1.—Dave Bancroft, star shortstop and captain of the world's champion New York Giants, does not consider himself a holdout, despite numerous New York press reports to that effect. Bancroft, who has been visiting his parents in Sioux City the last 10 days, characterizes the bulk of the New York stories as "junk," as far as his individual case and that of the baseball players' fraternity is concerned. "Since receiving my contract," Bancroft said, "I have written three or four letters to New York in regard to provisions which were unsatisfactory. All the answer I have had was to know the going rate. I had signed the contract, to join the squad at St. Louis, March 1. I suggested a conference with McGraw regarding salary differences, but the answer was McGraw was in the South and that all business must be transacted with the New York office."

Reports saying that I was asking a $12,500 salary instead of a $10,000 one are bunk. I never say what I am getting, but it is more than that. The contract sent me did not increase my last year's salary, but neither did it cut it.

"The talk that the players' fraternity has any part or any intention of holding up club owners or in any way figuring in salary transactions between players and managers is with-out foundation. That is up to each individual player. Neither are the Giants the 'backbone of the fraternity,' as newspaper stories claim. As far as I am concerned, the players' real organization and has taken no action as an organization."

Aldridge, a Holdout, Signs.
CHICAGO, March 1.—Victor Aldridge, right-handed pitcher for the Chicago National League Baseball Club, who was left standing here on a station platform when the Cubs first aboard a train for the Spring training camp today, was to start on his way West to join his teammates at Catalina Island, Cal. He then balked at the terms of his contract, but yesterday he reconsidered and signed.

Every Little Helps.

"H"OW to beat the Giants? has been the midwinter bugbear of practically every National League manager.
At present it appears that any sleepless nights devoted to this puzzle have been wasted.
On pre-season facts, the Giants watchdog-of-the-treasury already has beaten them in the 1923 race. Unwillingness to be held for wages has thus far cost the Giants its team. One-half of the regular hurling staff, Dave Bancroft, the "miracle man" pitcher, Bentley and others have declined to report.

If they will only keep on declining for two or three weeks, so that contenders may start the season with that much condition advantage, the Giants are as good as beaten. Victories at the beginning count just as much as those at the end of the campaign.

Looks Like a Conspiracy.
PERHAPS the spirit of the Giants' management was and is entirely justified. Certain aspects of the holdout indicate a near-conspiracy among the stars not to report unless satisfied. But there can be one result only, if the strain continues—early inefficiency and later dissatisfaction on the part of the world's champions.

The team has two sure rivals, perhaps more: Pittsburgh and Cincinnati. The Cardinals and Cubs have potentialities that may develop into strong assets. Three teams seem out of the running.

As the New York club is today composed, it could not beat a class A league club, because its hurlers are not in line.
They all will sign; but leave it to rival managers to pray that the recalcitrant men play their stickup game to the last limit. That spells a real race in the National.

About Our Cardinals.
THERE is little to be said of our Rickenbackers but I consider a few of these that must come through before the club can be a contender.

IP Bill Doak, after a steady decline, comes back to his best form. IP Bill Pertica bears out the promise that he did not bear fruit last year.
IP Fred Toney is re-litigated, signs and pitches back to the efficiency he displayed two years ago.
IP Jeff Pfeffer has another good year left in him.
IP Johnny Lavan regains the form he lost last year; or, if some recruit develops able to take Lavan's place.

IP—Max Flack doesn't get hurt and plays at his best speed.
IP—The outfield as a whole improves 40 per cent in every way, every day, over last year's average.
IP—Bottomley proves an acceptable first baseman.
IP—Ainsmith and Clemons prove useful to the catching task.
IP—Milton Stock doesn't break down at third base.
IP—Some of the recruits come through as serviceable second-string men.
It's only a short list, men. But it included conditions that must develop favorably in a majority of instances before the club can have much hope.

Hornaby Out for Record.
SOMEbody in the baseball bating world will have to step lively this year, unless an accident happens to Rogers Hornaby. This young man is just beginning to feel the fires of ambition. He showed this when he beat the gate by motoring down to the training camp to get a head start on the entire squad in conditioning.

Hornaby has the physical equipment to break world's records. He is the best straightaway hitter since the elder Delahanty's day. His home-run record last year surpassed that of Ruth and his general hitting surpassed his league rivals.

Conditions are favorable for his smashing the total-base record, the modern National League batting mark and who knows what other feat marks.
The world's champion George Sisler will have to step out at his best pace next season to beat this virile young Cardinal.
N. B.—George is some stepper.

About Prize Fights.
TODAY opponents of boxing hills urge that boxing is a misnomer and that glove exhibitions are prize fights.

They say a "prize fight" is one in which there is "a fight for a prize or wager."
There are no wagers today, among pugilists. Not on your bank roll! There is not even a 60-40 split of the purse for winner and loser. The boxers play it safe, now, and demand an assured sum or percentage of the house, before entering the ring. In other words, they box for wages, not a prize.
Furthermore, the old prize fight was reprehensible, not because of the "prize" or wager, but because of the fighting conditions. It was the reward of the contest, not the reward attached to "prize fighting" that induced the Missouri Legislature in 1873 to pass the existing statute against the game. That is because in those days they fought with spikes, with bare knuckles, and under conditions that were essentially brutal. Today nothing comparable to such fights exists, even in the most aggravated exceptions to the rule or in private battles.

There is now up before the Missouri Legislature an admirable measure introduced by Representative John Manning. It embodies the best that is contained in the existing laws now authorizing boxing in 18 states.

Boxing exists in any case. Why should not it be put under this good clean law, under state-wide supervision and conditions, that make the maintenance of the governing board not only self-sustaining, but which provide for a revenue for the state in addition?

Negro, Who Disobeyed Command
Not to Look Back, Shot at by Robbers.

Four highwaymen in an automobile robbed five persons in three holdups between 10:30 and 11:30 p. m. yesterday.

Two of the four stepped from the machine with masks over their faces and held up Norman and William Schaefer of 6810 Pershing avenue at 5900 Ridge avenue and robbed William of $2.75 and Norman of his overcoat.

Half an hour later apparently the same men stopped Allen Dewakins, 4927 Fountain avenue, and Albert Castol, 1215 North Euclid avenue, in front of the Castol home, taking $15 from Castol and $5 from Dewakins. Henry Alexander, a negro, of 4058 Finney avenue was stopped by the same band near 4500 Finney avenue at 11:30 p. m. and robbed of $8. He was told to "run along" and not to look back. He looked back and the robbers fired three shots at him.

Telephone Girl's Jewel Had Been Given Away by Negro Porter.

A diamond ring reported Oct. 30 last by Miss Josephine Desmond of 4500 Newberry terrace, telephone exchange operator in the building, as stolen from a washroom in the Federal Building, was recovered last night by city detectives, following the arrest of Louis Robinson, 41, of 5624 Olive street, a negro porter in the building. Robinson said he had given it to a negress, with whom he was friendly, for a Christmas present. The latter turned it over to the detectives. The ring had been taken off by Miss Desmond when she washed her hands and was missing when she returned after a short absence, to recover it.

Robinson was released on bond. George R. Riehl Hardware Men. George M. Riehl of 2101 Gravois Missouri Retail Hardware Association was elected president of the association at its convention at the Marquette Hotel yesterday. The convention ends today.

WHERE WHAT IS SUPPOSED TO BE THE OLDEST BUILDING IN THE WORLD HAS BEEN UNEARTHED

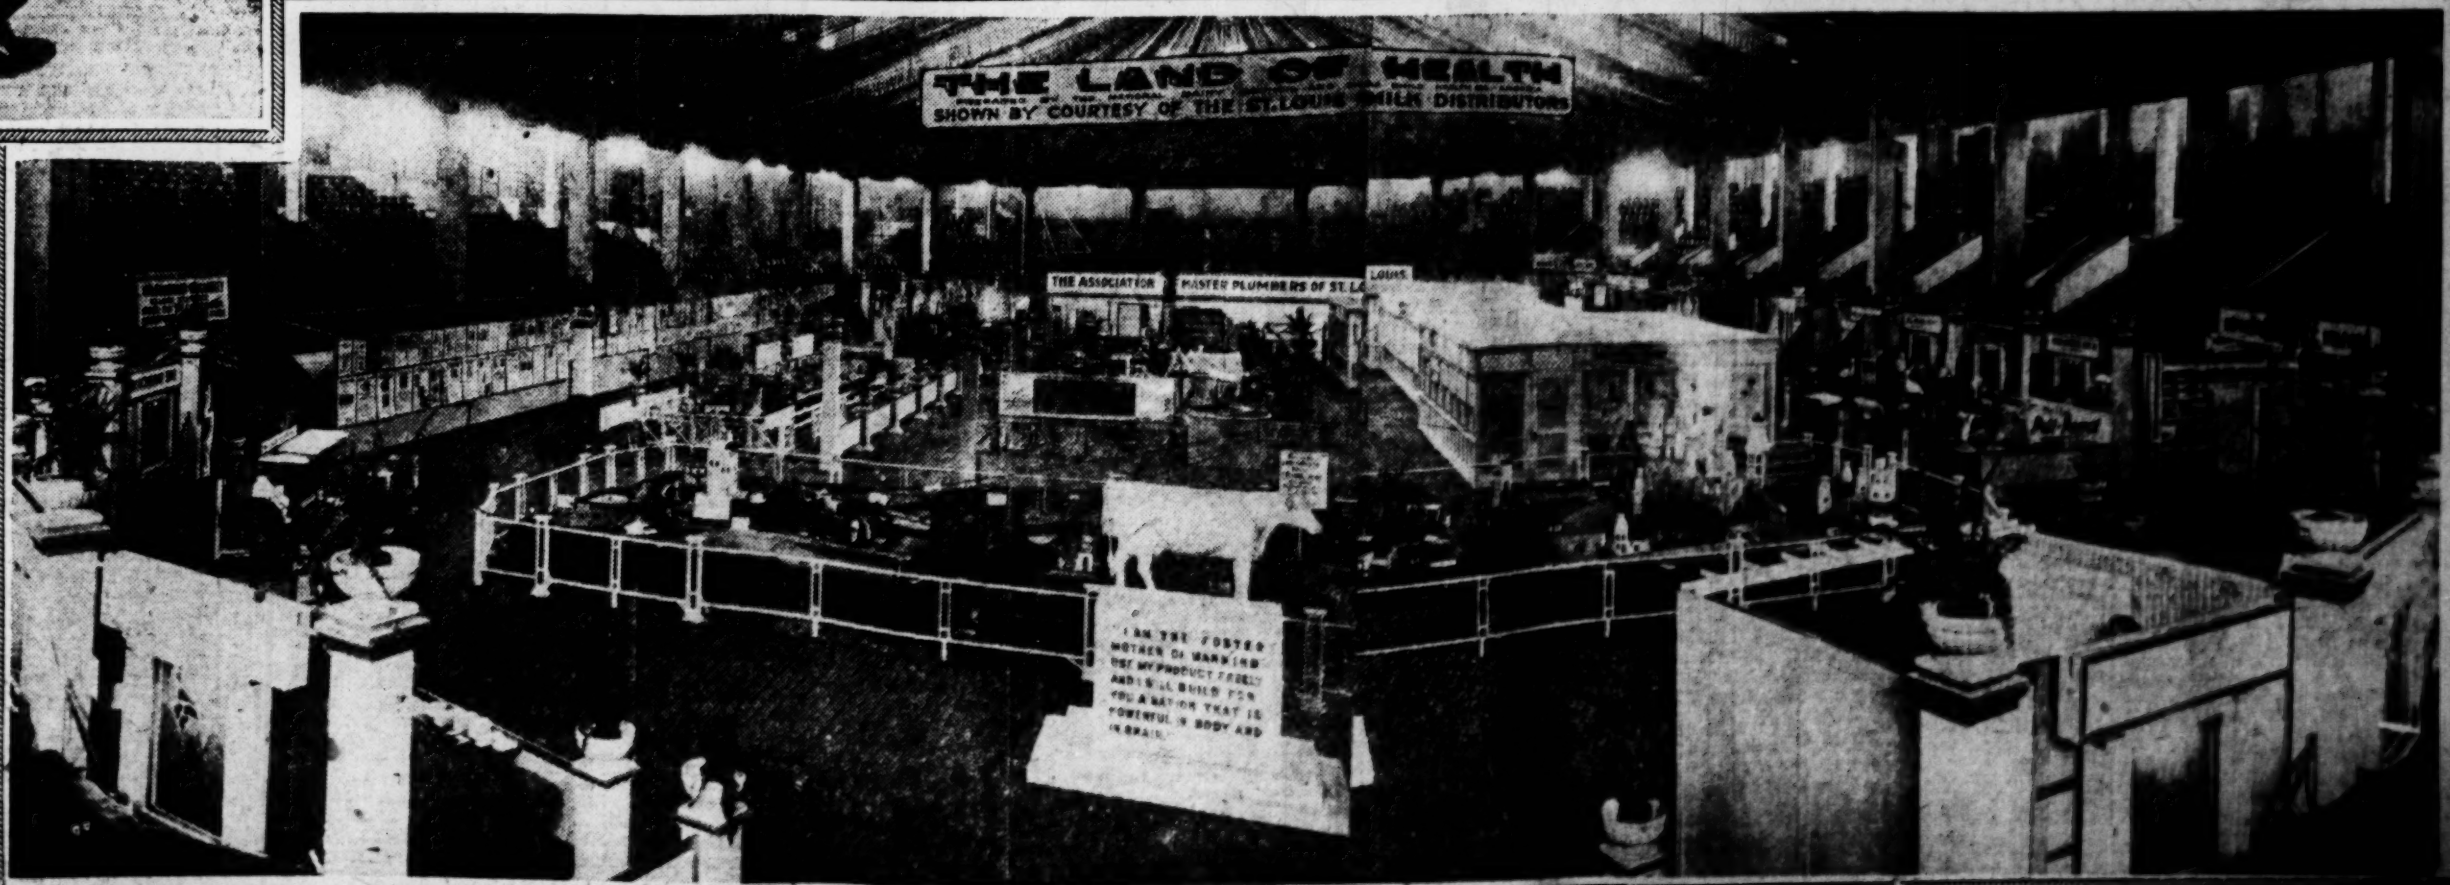

Scenes at Ur in ancient Chaldea, where the walls of the Harem of the Moon God have been revealed by excavations within the last two weeks. (1) The Citadel of the Castle of Ur, adjacent to which the Moon God's temple stands. Ur is on the Euphrates River and Chaldea is a part of ancient Mesopotamia. It was in this citadel that Nebuchadnezzar of biblical fame had his stronghold. (2) Partly excavated top of the Citadel or Castle of Ur. This building, though over 5000 years old, is supposed to have been erected many years after the Moon God's temple. (3) The floor is all that remains of the once magnificent throne hall of Nebuchadnezzar. It was in this hall that Belshazzar, the son of Nebuchadnezzar, gave his great feast at which the legend announcing, according to Daniel's interpretation, that the King had been weighed in the balance and found wanting, was written by a visible but mysterious hand on the wall. Tutankhamen and his people were moderns compared to the Urians.

He was a bird of passage, flying from the far south to the far north, but is now an inmate of the Zoo. A young mallard drake, with injured wing, dropped from his flock into Pine street yesterday, and was picked up by John W. McRae, 5707 McPherson avenue, who turned him over to the Zoo. He is perfectly contented with his new surroundings.

BLACKHEADS SHOW YOU ARE CARELESS

Tremendous Use of the Famous Black and White Beauty Creations Is Proving This More and More Every Day.

Not so long ago a renowned authority on the care of the complexion said: "I know a person who has ugly blackheads in their face and neck, and I will show you one who is either not giving them any attention and care at all, or is careless in not using the one sure and easiest way to keep these complexion rulers away."

How true this is. Women and girls especially will try to use blackheads as a means of refining rid of them, and it is really no easy to do it there is no secret for anyone being humiliated by going along the street showing that they do not give their skin the proper care.

Just take a few moments every night and first clean the face with Black and White Cleansing Cream; then, after wiping this off with a towel, apply a film of cold cream to be absorbed by the skin to supply the oils which the wind and weather have beaten out during the day's exposure.

This makes your skin fine, active, and blackheads literally wash out after you do this one or two nights, because the film of cold cream keeps the skin clear, and the ingredients used in making the Black and White Beauty Creations keep your skin clear, and the ingredients used in making the Black and White Beauty Creations keep your skin clear, and the ingredients used in making the Black and White Beauty Creations keep your skin clear.

Fashion News Notes

PARIS—The mantilla veil has returned to queen it over all the other veils so fashionable this season. The mantilla veil of today is usually of very fine lace and it is draped high on the back of the hat and brought around on each side of the face to fall over the shoulders.

PARIS—Schmuck braid is today enjoying unprecedented popularity. It appears on all sorts of frocks except possibly those for evening wear. Frocks of fine woolen crepe are almost certain to be trimmed in long rows with soutache braid.

LONDON—The cape sleeve has been taken over by the negligee. It makes an especially graceful addition to the trailing lines of a rest robe, especially when combined with the surplice bodice and edged with a light fur.

LONDON—Various spring wraps shown today have scarf collars. These may, of course, be worn high about the neck, but the chic way is to have them tied to one another, leaving much of the neck bare and allowing the ends of the scarf to fall below the waistline.

How to Serve Some Novel Delicacies in Pimento Cups

By Jeannette Young Norton

RED peppers are not only decorative, but very good as well. In most localities late fall sees their end, and we must depend upon the green ones or those in oil, or, best of all, the little pimento cups, which are a new canned and bottled product.

Round, sweet peppers have been seeded, then packed in an acidulated brine, which keeps them firm and peppy-looking to serve as salads. They may be rinsed well and used as bases for cooked foods. Although they are nice to know about, and they strike a cheery color note in our table delicacies. There are 12 cups to the bottle, and a few more than this in the cans. They keep well after being opened if kept in the brine in a cool place.

The cups may be cut up in strips for salad use or chopped and mixed with cheese to make savory salad balls. In preparing pepper cups for baking, stuff them lightly with food that cooks quickly, so that the cups may not get limp and lose their shape.

Grapefruit Entree.

Remove all skin from the pulp of a ripe grapefruit and set it to drain. Light four pepper cups in cold water, then place them on lettuce leaves. Add to the drained grapefruit three tablespoons of very finely chopped walnut meat, a tablespoonful of chopped celery leaves—choosing white leaves—a teaspoonful of onion juice, a little salt and a little red pepper. Moisten this mixture with heavy mayonnaise made without mustard. Fill the cups lightly and serve with any fish dish.

Oyster Peppers.

Allow three freshly-opened oysters to each pepper cup. Add a level tablespoonful of fine crumbs to each three oysters, pepper, salt, enough sweet heavy cream to moisten, a teaspoonful of onion juice and a teaspoonful of chopped, washed capers. Fill the cups, after buttering them inside and out. Place the cups on a buttered baking dish and bake them in a brisk oven from 10 to 12 minutes. Serve the cups on toast rounds. If desired, a thin cream sauce may be served in a hot sauceboat.

Newburgh Peppers.

Rinse as many pepper cups as are to be used in cold water, then drain them dry. Cut fine the meat of a good-sized, cold-boiled lobster. Add pepper, salt, two tablespoonsful of chopped chives and one finely-minced pepper cup. Make the sauce by beating the yolks of four eggs until they are light in color. Add slowly three-quarters of a pint of cream, pepper, salt and a tablespoonful of Worcestershire sauce. Melt a full half-cupful of butter in a saucepan, and when it is melted turn in the cream mixture, stirring steadily one way until it is thickened. Then add the lobster. When all is hot fill the cups and serve on toast rounds, garnished with parsley. The remaining mixture should be kept hot and second helpings, if desired, may be served over the toast rounds.

Chicken and Mushroom Peppers.
Cut in pieces and saute in butter a half-pound of fresh mushrooms. Cream a cupful and a half of minced chicken in the usual way, seasoning it well. Add the mushrooms. Rinse and dry the little pepper cups, then fill them with the chicken. Serve this delicacy on a hot dish and garnish it with toast snippets and parsley.

ODD AND INTERESTING FACTS FROM EVERYWHERE

The first of the Homeric poems is supposed to be about 2850 years old.

One hundred and sixty plays were produced in London during 1922.

Quadruplets are 20 times as rare as triplets and more than 2000 times as rare as twins. Roughly, the proportion is one set of quadruplets to 250,000 births. Three sets of quadruplets were born in England in 1904, and there is no record of any more until 1909.

It is estimated that to paint the top side of a big transatlantic liner from waterline to rail calls for enough paint to cover more than an acre of surface.

The average age of Londoners has increased by two years in the last 10 years.

Harry even goes so far as to say he was jobbed out of his title. Un-he was jabbed out of it.

OUTCLASSED

MY FAVORITE STORIES
By IRVIN S. COBB.

A SEEKER AFTER HIDDEN FACTS.

When the New York Central inaugurated its fast service between New York and Chicago there was a great potter along the main line. Employees of whatever rank were instructed that the paramount consideration was to get the Twentieth Century Limited through on schedule. Everything else in the passenger department of the system must be subordinated to this supreme object.

At a small flag stop some distance west of Albany, the station agent was a callow youth. By enthusiasm and a sense of his responsibilities he made up, though, for what he lacked in experience. In addition to being the ticket-seller he also was the dispatcher.

One wintry evening just at dusk he caught, passing over the wire, word that the Twentieth Century Limited was two hours behind time. What had retarded her he did not learn, but he knew wherein his duty lay.

He lit his lantern, sharpened a pencil and got out a notebook, then sat him down to bide his time. Ten minutes before the belated limited was due to whiz past he left the station, walked eastward along the tracks a quarter of a mile and posted himself between the rails.

Soon the headlight bore into sight. In an effort to make up the precious lost minutes the engineer was driving his locomotive at tremendous speed. Suddenly, far ahead, he saw the dancing signal of a lantern. He gave her the brakes; he gave her the sand. Passengers in the coaches behind were slammed up against the end bulkheads of their berths. With sparks flying from her wheels, the snorting mogul stopped not 50 feet distant from where the youth stood. The engineer and his fireman dropped down from the cab and ran forward, spluttering questions.

The station agent stilled them with an authoritative gesture. He put down his lantern on the right of way, braced his pad in the crook of his elbow, poised his pencil ready to record their answers and said briefly:
"Now then, boys, tell me—what detained you?"
